A REVIEW OF 1980

...the year of change

by David Hall

The year just past was one of the most exciting---and complicated---ones in the history of U.S. numismatics. Not only were undreamed of prices the rule rather than the exception, but perhaps the most dramatic "halt" in soaring price levels was also encountered. The CDN is very pleased to present the following look at 1980 by David Hall. There are few people in a better position to view the overall market than David and we are certain that his view of the year will be interesting as well as informative to our readers.

1980 was a year of dramatic change for the rare coin market. For over four years rare coin prices had increased at an astonishing rate, beginning slowly in early 1976 and culminating in the weekly price advances of late 1979 and and early 1980. The greatest bull market in rare coin history ended abruptly in mid-April 1980. When the smoke cleared, coin prices had increased as much as 1000%! After such a mind-boggling price run-up, an adjustment was, of course, inevitable. In the six "sluggish" months between April and October, coin prices declined in the neighborhood of 20% to 30%, though a few issues dropped as much as 50%. The year ended with the market firming up significantly. And with the exception of a few still soft areas coin prices are beginning to edge up once again.

OVERALL MARKET REVIEW

1) January 1, 1980 to April 17, 1980

The dealers called it "stone heat" as prices went up virtually across-the-board every week! At coin shows, choice material was trading 30%, 40% even 50% over CDN bid/ask levels. At auctions it wasn't unusual for coins to sell for double bid and then some! During the first four months of 1980, bid levels for Choice Proof and Choice BU type coins increased over 100%! And MS-65 gold bid levels increased over 50%. CDN Summary bids increased an average 86.9% for Buffalo nickels, 66.6% for Mercury dimes, 88.5% for Standing Liberty quarters and 75.6% for Walking Liberty half dollars. Though substantial, the 30% average price gain for MS-65 Morgan and Peace dollars was overshadowed by the explosive gains in other areas. Never before had coin prices increased so quickly! The prices realized by the coins sold by Bowers and Ruddy Galleries as "Part II" of the Garrett Sale in late March gives us a perfect example of the true hysteria of the "stone heat" market. The total prices realized at that sale was in excess of $11,000,000. The average price per lot was an incredible $20,526! Twenty single coins sold in excess of $100,000 each.

2) "Black Friday"

The annual Central States Coin Convention is always one of the biggest shows of the year. The 1980 Central States Show was like no other coin show in history. At that show the four year bull coin market literally "stopped on a dime". In retrospect, undoubtedly there were several reasons for the sudden slow-down. Dealers had become very sloppy with their purchase policies and many dealers were financially over-extended. Bullion prices were crashing. Interest rates had soared to 20%. And those huge Garrett Sale payments were due on April 18th. In looking back, it's also evident that there were rumblings of a market slowdown, subtle hints if you will, in the weeks preceding the Central States Show. However, no one expected it to happen when it did and every dealer I know was stunned at how incredibly sudden and incredibly hard the brakes came on. If you weren't there, it may be hard to comprehend, but I was there and believe me on April 17th it was business as usual and on April 18th no one would even look at coins!

3) April 19, 1980 to October 17, 1980

For six months the rare coin market went through a period of sluggish activity and declining prices. At first, there were no buyers at any price, but, as prices continued to drop and dealer cash positions improved, the market began to firm-up. Coins began to trade at 20% or 30% or 40% below bid. By mid-October many issues were again trading in the bid/ask range---or slightly below---with a lot of teletype "bargain hunting" bids (in the 5% to 15% under bid range) for commems, early proof sets, Walking Liberty rolls, cheaper type coins, etc. It's important to note that this is an overview of the entire market and not all series followed the general pattern. For example, Morgan and Peace dollars started heating up after the rest of the market fell flat.

4) October 18, 1980 to December 31, 1980

With minor exceptions, the last 2½ months of 1980 saw renewed coin demand and an overall firmness in the rare coin market. After declining for six months, prices started to edge up for late-date "Walkers" and a few type issues. Coupled with renewed demand for silver commemoratives and still-increasing silver dollar prices, it looks like the coin market is ready to slowly begin its next inflationary run-up. To be sure, there are still a few areas of weakness. Better date $5 Indians, $10 Indians, and $20 St. Gaudens are very soft. There is still apparent weakness in the BU roll market. This weakness is especially evident in the post-1940 Washington quarter rolls. But a further drop of 10% to 20% could very well take care of that. After all, Washington quarters are a popular series that has basically always sold rather well.

THREE EXAGGERATED EXAMPLES

There are three good examples of what went on during 1980. While their price movement was exaggerated compared to the overall market, they do give us some insight into the mood of the market during the past twelve months:

1) Proof Three Cent Nickels

MS-65's were bid $1100 at the beginning of the year. By mid-April, bid had soared to $2500. Bid then dropped just as fast to a September low of $1250. They are currently bid at $1300.

2) P-Mint "Walkers"

MS-65 Monthly Summary bid for 1941-P thru 1945-P Walking Liberty half dollars was $105 in December 1979. In the April 1980 issue they were bid at $200. By the October Summary they were back down to $82.50! The current Summary bid is $120. I feel the price movement of these extremely popular coins is very significant. In fact, I'm using the week that the P-mint roll bid briefly touched $1500 (the week of October 17) to call the market "bottom".

3) Matte Proof $20 St. Gaudens

In my opinion, no area of the market was more devasted by the sudden slowdown than these "ultra" expensive coins. By "ultra" expensive I mean coins in the $25,000 and up price range. For example, Matte Proof $20 St. Gaudens---which, though rare, are nearly always available for a price---were trading between dealers at the market peak in the $75,000 to $85,000 range. And these coins had auction records as high as $120,000. You can now pick up Matte Proof twenties for $35,000 to $40,000!

THE PERFORMANCE OF SPECIFIC AREAS

1) Type Coins

No area of the market mirrors the general trend of the year better than type coins. MS-65 BU and Proof type coin prices went up fast, incredibly fast, during the first four months of 1980. They actually came down rather softly—about 20% to 30% on average—during the six month "price adjustment" period. They have recently begun to creep up slightly. The average 1980 MS-65 price increase of the twenty-three major BU and seventeen major Proof type coins (this is excluding the minor, i.e. arrows, no drapery, etc. types and the nearly unavailable pre-1807 types) is 74.8%! The big winners of these major types were BU Indian cents (up 328%), Proof Indian cents (up 254%), Proof Two-centpieces (up 111%), BU half cents (up 111%), BU large cents (up 113%) and BU Liberty nickels (up 111%). Every major type issue increased at least 20%! The worst performers were BU Barber dimes, BU Seated Liberty dollars, Proof Three-cent silvers, Proof Barber dimes, Proof Barber quarters, and Proof Morgan dollars. These issues had increases of between 22% and 29%.

2) MS-65 Gold

Proof gold and "ultra" expensive rarities got slaughtered, but MS-65 "type" gold held up very well. MS-65 "type" gold bids increased gradually until September. They then held firm until a minor (6%) price drop the last week of December. The twelve "major" gold type coins increased an average of 95.3% during 1980! All MS-65 type gold did great in 1980. The big winners were the $10 Liberty (up 147%), $5 Liberty (up 107%), $2½ Liberty (up 104%). The "worst" (you really can't call them that) performers were the $20 St. Gaudens (up 70%), Type II gold dollars (up 75%), Type III gold dollars (up 75%).. It's important to note that, with the exception of pre-1807 copper, silver and gold issues, the supply of MS-65 gold is thinnier than any other area of the market. For example, witness the current weekly increases for common date MS-65 $20 St. Gaudens in the face of declining bullion prices.

3) Morgan and Peace Dollars

The Morgan and Peace dollar market slowed down nearly a year (August 1979, to be exact) before the rest of the market, then, in about May of this year, while the rest of the market tumbled, dollars started to perk up. The overall result for the year was a steady increase for MS-65 Morgan and Peace issues. The average price increase of the 120 regular issues (varieties excluded) was 74.2%. The big winners were, for the most part, the common dates: 1883-O, 1884-O and 1885-O (up 166% each), 1881-O (up 150%), 1882-O (up 141%), 1899-O (up 150%), 1904-O (up 190%), 1921-P (up 210%), 1922-P and 1923-P (up 150% each), 1924-P (up 182%) and 1925-P (up 229%). Better dates also had significant winners: 1893-O (up 138%), 1895-O (up 167%) and 1900-S (up 129%). Only four issues increased less than 20%: 1895-S (up 14%), 1896-S (up 18%), 1899-S (up 5%) and 1903-O (up 4%).

4) Modern Series

All of the modern series performed well during 1980. MS-65 Buffalo nickels, Mercury dimes, Standing Liberty quarters, and Walking Liberty half dollars all had average gains in excess of 100%. The best and the "worst" were as follows:

Buffalo Nickels:

Best - 1913-P type II (up 270%), 1924-P (up 257%), 1929-D (up 250%), and 1930-P (up 283%).
"Worst" - Every issue was up at least 100%!

Mercury Dimes (full bands):

Best - 1918-D (up 221%), 1919-S (up 206%), 1920-P (up 165%), 1938-P (up 228%) 1943-S (up 173%).
"Worst" - 1916-D (up 39%), 1943-D (up 45%), 1944-D (up 45%).

Walking Liberty Half Dollars:

Best - 1916-P (up 200%), 1916-D (up 211%), 1917-S obv. (up 206%), 1918-D (up 200%), 1920-P (up 200%).
"Worst" - 1946-D (down 20%), 1946-P (up 4%), 1941-P thru 1945-P (up 14%).

5) BU Rolls

The BU roll market also provides an excellent barometer of coin market activity. Roll prices increased dramatically until April and then began a long slide. The BU roll market does appear to be taking longer to recover than the rest of the market. However, "Walker" prices are now increasing and the rest of the roll market is much closer to being firm than the current rash of weekly minus signs seems to indicate.

Big winners include: 1936S 1¢ (up 216%), 1941-S 1¢ (up 182%), 1934-D 5¢ (up 154%), 1938-P 10¢ (up 166%), 1934-P 25¢ (up 138%).

Worst performers were the bullion related late issues (1956 to 1964 dimes, quarters and halves) which decreased about 50% during the year.

6) Proof Sets

This year saw the 1950 to 1955 issues move in conjunction with the earlier (1936 - 1942 issues), while in previous years they were usually associated with the later dates. The 1936 thru 1955 issues followed the general trend of the market with all of them reaching their peak price the week of April 18th. They then slowly dropped until mid-October. For example 1941 and 1942 proof sets were bid $1050 at the first of the year, they moved to $2000 on April 18th and they are now bid $1200. The overall effect of all this movement was an increase of about 20% during 1980 for most proof sets.

7) Commemoratives

The commemorative scenario closely resembles that of the silver dollar market. Commemorative prices had slowed down during 1979. Last year saw a very gradual increase in both the gold and silver issues. Silver issues increased in the neighborhood of 10% to 20%. The gold commems did slightly better, with increases averaging about 30%.

Conclusions

There's two important things we can learn from the dramatic price swings of last year. First, while there is definitely a general trend, the entire market does not move in harmony. Something is always hot and something is always out-of-favor. Finally, the rare coin market goes through very definite cycles. The periods of price decreases are a sign of a healthy market. It happened in 1955, 1958-59, 1965, 1970, 1974 and 1980. Each time the coin market went on to further price advances.

FEBRUARY — 1981

Vol. VI No. 2 Single copy price: $2.50

An in-depth analysis of the FRANKLIN HALF DOLLAR series . . .

For many years---indeed, until recently---Franklin half dollars were thought of only "by the roll". Roll prices had their cyclical ups and downs as any other area of the market. Dealers and investors had their favorite dates and "promotions" among the various issues were not uncommon---but always by the roll and sales of singles were generally based upon the prorated roll price. Now, however, along with continued interest in BU rolls and BU roll sets, more and more serious collector/investors have begun to take a look at---and to look for---top quality Franklin singles. And, to no one's surprise, prices for choice and gem specimens have begun to reflect this interest.

The initial stirrings of demand for Franklins as a set to be carefully assembled coin by coin produced some previously little known facts. First, the percentage of true MS-65 or better specimens among the surviving uncirculated Franklin halves is probably lower than in any other U.S. series---with the exception of the Peace dollars. The most obvious reason for this is the design of the coin itself. The shallow relief and large plain devices literally invite marks and abrasions. Add this to the problem of strike encountered among the San Francisco issues as well as many of the Philadelphia coins (and much indifferent handling through the years) and you will realize why it is so difficult to find strictly MS-65 or MS-67 specimens.

Second, "full bell lines" (hereafter referred to as FBL) are as elusive on some issues as they are desirable. For those not already familiar with the Franklin half, the bell lines comprise two groups of parallel lines which run entirely across the Liberty bell on the reverse of the coin. There are three lines in the group at the very bottom of the bell and four in the group just above. Although demand for FBL is certainly not as developed as for, say, "full bands" Mercury dimes, interest is definitely on the upswing. And, as with the FB Mercuries, there is a complete range of availability of FBL within the Franklin series---dates which are easy, those which are elusive but possible with some searching and those which are extremely difficult to locate in the ultimate condition (of MS-67 FBL).

In the following Part One of our analysis, we will first examine the availability by the roll of each of the thirty-five issues in the Franklin series---along with characteristics of each date. Readers will be given an idea of what to expect from a "typical, original uncirculated roll" of the various issues. This will be followed next month by a grading explanation for top quality examples and current approximate bids for the four categories of singles to he listed---MS-65, MS-65 FBL, MS-67 and MS-67 FBL. First, the rolls:

1948-P - Not surprisingly, this first-year-of-issue coin was saved from circulation in substantial quantities. Original rolls can be located rather easily (except, perhaps, at those times when the series is "hot"). The 48-P is also a well struck issue with a high percentage of FBL's (and most of the remainder are nearly so). And marks are not an overwhelming prohlem either. The typical original roll is satiny-hrilliant and comes in a high MS-63/65 range; MS-67 specimens are relatively easy to locate.

1948-D - The 48-D is generally of the same quality as its Philadelphia counterpart and an even greater number of original rolls were saved. Thus there isn't much more to say about this issue except that the collector can be as choosey as he likes since exceptional FBL specimens are out there waiting!

1949-P - For many years this was the only Franklin half thought to be scarce. Indeed, in the early Redbooks, the 49-P carried what was then a substantial premium (ten times face value) while such dates as 1949-D, 1949-S and 1951-D remained at or near the minimum listing for any Franklin half. (In fact, as early as 1962, circulated 49-P's often sold for several dollars in the higher grades while the 49-S was seldom even pulled from circulation!) And the 1949-P is obviously not a common roll. However, when located, original rolls are usually fully brilliant with a frequent tendency toward the prooflike. The strike is generally good to excellent---typical rolls being in a medium MS-63/65 range. Marks will be a bit more of a problem than they are for the 1948-P & D rolls. Still, a bit of diligence will produce just the right specimen.

1949-D - It is really difficult to tell from recent trading whether the 49-P or 49-D is the scarcest "by the original roll". (This obviously means that the 49-D has "come into its own" during recent years.) Which of these two rolls a bidder would locate first would probably be a matter of timing, but the 49-P is still almost certainly the scarcer roll. Typical original rolls are also a medium MS-63/65 and satiny-brilliant (which is a general characteristic of the Denver products)---perhaps even slightly better than the 49-P. Again, marks will not present too much of a problem for the serious collector.

1949-S - This first San Francisco issue is considered the "king" of the Franklin series by most---and, indeed, the 49-S is the scarcest issue "by the original roll". Prices over the past two or three years have pulled ahead with a vengeance (perhaps even a bit too far ahead). And, to compound the problem, when an original roll is located it is typically of MS-63'ish quality---if that. Light to heavy marks and abrasions are prevalent and the strike generally leaves much to be desired. (On the plus side, most rolls are either satiny-brilliant or show that tendency toward prooflike surfaces.) This issue will give the fussy collector a problem. When a mark free piece is located it will probably have only partial bell lines---and then the FBL specimen, when found, will probably have marks on Mr. Franklin's cheek or some other impairment!

1950-P - Original rolls of this issue are often of a high MS-63/65 quality range---again sometimes slightly prooflike and exceptionally brilliant. Certainly the "typical" roll is better than the average for any of the earlier dates except, perhaps, 1948-P & D. Thus, with strike not generally a problem, it is basically a matter of finding just the right mark-free specimen.

1950-D - A number of years ago a hoard of major proportions (several bags of one hundred rolls each) was floating around the numismatic marketplace. This hoard changed hands between dealers a few times---and more than one "promotion" resulted. Smaller groups of the original number almost certainly are squirrelled away somewhere. The typical roll is probably of a low MS-63/65 quality. Strike is not the problem; dull surfaces and marks are. But the sheer availability of original uncirculated examples gives the collector enough coins from which to choose---and top quality, satiny-brilliant pieces do come along.

1951-P - As its price history illustrates, this is a relatively easy date to locate by the roll. But, even though original rolls are around in adequate quantities, the typical roll is of somewhat less quality than the preceeding P-mints---heing of a low MS-63/65 range. Strike is sometimes a problem. Many specimens are somewhat "fuzzy" (especially on the obverse) even though the slight prooflike qualities of the earlier Philadelphia coins may be present. Marks will be more of a problem. So the right specimen may take a while to acquire. However, as with the 50-D, the number of extant uncirculated 51-P's to pick from is large and a little perseverance will pay off.

1951-D - Years back this issue was recognized, hy those who knew the Franklin series, as a "tough" roll. The ensuing popularity of BU rolls sets proved the point---and today locating a really nice original roll can be quite a challenge. Actually, original rolls are quite few and far between---and the quality of the typical roll is probably MS-63'ish. The problem is seldom strike. What plagues the often encountered 51-D is dullness of luster, splotchy toning and more than its share of marks and abrasions. (An exceptional roll will bring more of a premium than any other non-S-mint roll.) A brilliant example (FBL or not) without detracting marks will probably take a while to locate---unless you have "beginner's luck"!

1951-S - Brilliance is rarely a problem with this date---hut everything else usually is! The typical roll is bright and frosty, of poor to average strike and mark-prone. Finding the roll won't be much of a task but the coins in it will most likely be of MS-63 quality at hest. (The 51-S---though not the toughest S-mint to locate with FBL---is scarcer than the 1949-S. A probable listing of the S-mints in order of scarcity is: 1954-S, 1953-S, 1951-S, 1952-S and 1949-S. The 1949-S is actually the easiest of the group, most of the publicity is due to its scarcity as a date in uncirculated condition.)

FRANKLIN HALF DOLLAR

1952-P - This issue is quite similar to the 1951-P---a relatively easy roll to find but one which often will be somewhat disappointing. Again, the strike may be rather "fuzzy" (although with slightly prooflike fields) and marks will definitely be a reason not to purchase the majority of specimens seen. The 52-P is perhaps even a bit worse than the 51-P---but, as with any fairly plentiful issue, there are enough coins to choose from---so the right one will come along. Typical rolls, however, run in a low MS-63/65 range.

1952-D - The serious collector should have an easy time with this date. Rolls are simple to locate and the typical quality is a medium to high MS-63/65; surfaces are usually satiny brilliant. Marks and abrasions, of course, will cause the specialist to reject many specimens. One other problem is sometimes seen on 52-D's---striations due to die polishing; naturally, examples without these are more desirable.

1952-S - Not surprising, another problem coin! At first glance, the typical original roll might look great---frosty and brilliant. But a closer examination will most likely reveal that the coins are all MS-63'ish---if that. Marks are common and weak to medium strikes are the rule. Still, the only S-mint that is easier to find in MS-65 FBL condition is the 49-S. Keep looking!

1953-P - The quality of the 53-P is about the same as for both the 51-P and 52-P---but there are far fewer original rolls to pick through. (This low mintage issue more or less "sneaked through" and thus the quantity saved from circulation was quite small. This is unlike, say, the low mintage 1955-P---of which a tremendous number were saved.) Typical rolls of 53-P's range in low MS-63/65 area. Strike is a slight problem; marks and abrasions are a major problem. The right coin may take a while to acquire!

1953-D - Here we have an easy roll which typically will be of a high MS-63/65 quality. The surfaces are usually satiny brilliant and the strike is usually good. As with all Franklins, marks can be a problem---but filling that 53-D hole in your collection with a top quality example will be "a piece of cake"!

1953-S - Ah, but here's a real problem! As with the other S-mints, first glance at a typical roll will show a group of brilliant frosty coins. But then a closer look will probably produce twenty brilliant MS-60/63 coins. Marks present the usual problem; strike presents an unusual problem. There is often a general overall "fuzziness" and the bell lines fade well before reaching the center of the bell. (The bottom set of three lines, by the way, tends to be worse than the higher group of four lines. Many specimens will be encountered which have the upper set complete and a flattened area at the center of the bottom set.) The 53-S is the second worse coin in the series---good luck in searching for your MS-67 FBL!

1954-P & D - Original BU rolls of these two issues are just a bit above "common date" status. Typical rolls are of average MS-63/65 quality---with the 54-D's being the better of the two. Neither coin will prove to be much of a problem.

1954-S - This is the worst coin in the series! "Fuzzy" strikes, fading bell lines and a general sloppiness of production all conspire to make this the most elusive of all Franklins in top condition. All of the usual S-mint problems culminate in this last of the regular San Francisco issues. Locating your FBL MS-65 or MS-67 specimen is going to be quite a project since the typical roll is of a frosty, brilliant MS-60/63 average.

1955-P - There isn't very much to say for this popular low mintage except that is almost seems that they were all saved from circulation! Well, not quite---but finding a circ single is more difficult than finding a BU roll. Typical rolls average a low MS-63/65 range and are slightly prooflike. Marks will be the major deterrent in locating just the right example.

1956-P - This issue parallels the 55-P almost exactly. Typical rolls are in a low MS-63/65 range and the coins often exhibit a tendency toward the prooflike. And, again, an exceptionally large percentage of the mintage was saved from circulation (but not as great as the 55-P). Finding a sharp strike with FBL will be easy -there are so many to choose from, marks, however, still have to be reckoned with!

1957-P & D - It still may come as a surprise to some that original rolls of 57-P's may be the most elusive of any issue after 1953-P (except, perhaps, 54-S). They are, on the otherhand, of about the same quality as the preceeding P-mints---in a low MS-63/65 range. Thus marks will probably be the main factor in determing whether you will or will not purchase a particular example. The 1957-D is of slightly better quality than the 57-P. Typical rolls fall into a medium range of MS-63/65 and they are considerably easier to find. Bag quantities still exist---thus there are more than enough examples from which to choose.

1958-P & D - These two issues are a virtually repeat of the 57's as far as quality is concerned---the D-mints are a bit better than the P-mints and marks rather than strike will be the biggest problem in finding your special coin. The 58-P, however, is far easier to find by the original roll; the 58-D and 57-D are of comparable scarcity---that is, both are easy. (Again, both P-mints exhibit a tendency toward prooflike fields---but nothing outstanding.)

1959-P & D - Original rolls of 59-P's are plentiful enough (about the same as 58-P), but they are often rather "scruffy"---typical rolls generally ranging a rather low MS-63/65. And marks add even more problems. This is a relatively tough common date. The 1959-D, by the original roll, is somewhat of a "sleeper". It has moved ahead of the late-date pack recently---but rolls are still fairly elusive. The quality (a medium MS-63/65 with satiny brilliant surfaces) is better than the 59-P and finding MS-65 or even MS-67 FBL's is easy enough.

1960-P & D - Both of these "common dates" present problems for the serious collector of outstanding singles. Original rolls fall into a low MS-63/65 category and, along with a general inattention to strike by the Mints, marks are a fairly extensive problem. The D-mint roll has the slight edge on availability---but the general quality is perhaps just a bit lower. Two more relatively tough issues in top condition.

1961-P & D - The 61-P roll is similar in scarcity to the 1960 issues, but the quality is a little better. Pulling a satisfying specimen from a few typical rolls probably will be an easy enough task. The 61-D is surprisingly tough by the original roll (for a late date, that is)---but the typical roll is probably a bit better than the P-mint (as usual).

1962-P & D - A virtual repeat of the above issues---except that the Denver roll is just slightly easier than the Philadelphia roll. Again, no major problems here once the "marks and abrasions" are taken into consideration.

1963-P & D - These, of course, are the "common of the common dates"---but you may be surprised at just how long it takes to locate a really top quality specimen! Sloppy production and myriads of marks will frustrate those who think they can pick the right piece from the first roll or two encountered. Sharply struck, brilliant FBL's are not easy!

A note regarding BU rolls. As any roll becomes more and more scarce, thus sought after and increasingly expensive, there is a tendency for those trading the rolls to "cherry pick" before sending them on to the next owner. A lot of ten original BU rolls, for instance, often becomes a lot of eight or nine---leaving one or two choice rolls in the hands of the seller (or being sold at a premium elsewhere). This has been dramatically emphasized in the Morgan series where practically all BU rolls now grade MS-60/63 (as indicated by their current price levels). The earlier Franklins are now experiencing this phenomenon---but to a lesser degree at this stage, of course.

Next month, in Part Two of this analysis, the CDN will present a first-time-ever price chart for choice and gem single Franklin halves---along with an explanation of just what it takes for an example to qualify for this classification. Watch for it!

An in-depth analysis of the FRANKLIN HALF DOLLAR series . . .

PART TWO

The CDN is very pleased to present this second part of an important initial study of the Franklin half dollar series. Part One which appeared in the February issue was extremely well received—and the numerous letters that arrived were thoroughly enthusiastic. This is definitely a "series with a future"! As was mentioned last month, with the exception of the Peace dollar series, the percentage of true MS-65 and better specimens among the surviving population of Franklin halves is probably lower than any other U.S. series. A number of astute collectors (as well as dealers) have been squirrelling away exceptional specimens for at least a couple of years—and, as one dealer recently remarked, he has "more luck finding true gems in almost any other series except silver dollars".

Part One of our indepth analysis of the Franklin half dollar series examined the characteristics of typical original BU rolls of each of the thirty-five issues involved. Not surprisingly, the usual quality encountered in the various rolls ranged from quite nice to something less acceptable—with the most problems (but certainly not all) appearing among the San Francisco issues.

As the earlier series have become more and more expensive, many of the collectors whose interest lies in gem material only have turned their attention to the later series. One late series which offers a great challenge, of course, is the Franklins. Assembling an average BU set is no trick at all—in fact, one simply orders a set from his local dealer, buys it over the teletype system or picks it up at the next coin show. Ah, but when the serious collector (investor) decides that he wants a strictly MS-65 "full bell lines" set—or, even more ambitious, a MS-67 FBL set—the searching begins! In this Part Two of our analysis, then, we will explain the grade classifications of top quality specimens—and we will then present a first-time-ever price chart for these top quality pieces.

And so just what is a MS-65—or a MS-67—Franklin half dollar? A quick glance at the "Official A.N.A. Grading Standards for United States Coins" reveals than even a MS-70 specimen is described along with MS-65 and MS-60. (The intermediate grades of MS-63 and MS-67 which were recently adopted are not described; the book is copyrighted 1977.) Interestingly, the major concern of many collectors who want the ultimate in quality is the "bell lines"—and these aren't even mentioned in the A.N.A. grading guide. This is in direct contrast to the mention of "full head" details for the Standing Liberty quarters in all three uncirculated grades as well as at least a note regarding "full bands" on Mercury dimes.

Thus, for the purposes of this article, we will add "full bell lines" specimens to both the MS-65 and MS-67 categories. There are distinct differences—particularly in value—and these differences will no doubt assume even more importance as time goes on.

THE MS-65 FRANKLIN will, of course, show absolutely no trace of wear. It will also be sharply struck—but not necessarily fully struck (the term "fully" meaning every detail completely struck up). The original mint luster will be complete and bag or handling marks will be light and minimal. The bell lines will not be complete—but they will fade only at the center of the bell. (One or the other of the two groups of bell lines may be complete.) The coin may be brilliant or naturally toned.

THE MS-65 "FBL" FRANKLIN will fit all of the above requirements and, in addition, will exhibit full bell lines in both groups.

THE MS-67 FRANKLIN will be superior to the MS-65 example in strike and in lack of marks. In other words, all details except the bell lines will be fully struck—and marks will be virtually non-existent. (Remember that a fully struck coin with absolutely no marks at all is a MS-70—if it truly exists.) Again, the piece may be brilliant or naturally toned.

THE MS-67 "FBL" FRANKLIN, obviously, is the above coin with full bell lines in both groups.

As was touched on last month in Part One of this study, the "bell lines" in question comprise two groups of tiny parallel lines which cross the bottom of the Liberty Bell on the reverse of the Franklin half. At the very bottom of the bell, the group consists of three lines—and the group slightly separated and just above consists of four lines. For a coin to be "FBL", all seven lines must be clear all the way across. On "90% bell lines" specimens (which are often called FBL by optimistic potential sellers), the higher group may be complete—but the bottom group fades at the center of a bell (often leaving a "flat" area at that point). "Full bell lines" specimens, however, are just that—full!

(NOTE that some allowance is usually made for the depth of the bell lines at the center on the San Francisco issues. To be FBL, all the bell lines must show all the way across the bell—but they may be somewhat fainter than on the Philadelphia and Denver coins.)

All of this may sound like splitting hairs (or splitting bell lines?) to those not yet interested in the Franklin half dollar series—but it all seems quite logical to those who are! (Don't forget, not too many years back, collectors who sought out "full bands" Mercury dimes were often thought of as a bit "peculiar".)

The prices on the next page are current approximate dealer-to-dealer BID RANGES for strictly graded coins in the four listed categories. It must be emphasized that the word "approximate" definitely applies—since this is a relatively new area of collecting/investing and firm price levels have not yet been established. Changes are virtually certain as demand continues and expands. In addition, most price levels are still more or less related to the BU roll price rather than strictly based upon the scarcity of the issue in top quality condition. (On the retail scene, asking prices are often surprising. One such example is the $1100 price tag attached to a "FBL MS-67" 1949-S which is presently been offered by a well known firm!)

LARGE CENT ANALYSIS

PART ONE

by Jack H. Beymer

We are pleased to present this first part of an in-depth look at U.S. Large Cents by Jack Beymer. Large cents are becoming increasingly popular with collectors and the following information should prove invaluable to those who are gaining an interest in this area of numismatics. Of particular use will be the basal value scale to be used in determining the value of specific dates and varieties in the various grades. Mr. Beymer would like to thank Del Bland for his assistance in preparing these basal values. Next month's issue will continue this study---beginning with the scarce and popular Classic Head type.

For those of you who are just becoming familiar with large cents, it is recommended that you purchase a copy of "Penny Whimsy" by Dr. William Sheldon, Dorothy Paschal and Walter Breen---reprinted recently by Quarterman Publications. "Penny Whimsy" reads like a coin collector's novel, introducing the reader to the pioneers of large cent collecting. Then, "Penny Whimsy" develops the mere collecting of large pennies into a numismatic science. The book has become the standard by which all subsequent numismatic studies have been measured.

The Sheldon variety numbers you may have seen in coin publications refer to the obverse and reverse die pairs of early date large cents from 1793 to 1814 listed in assumed order of emission. The Sheldon grade numbers are currently used to describe the relative quality of coins by the majority of collectors and dealers. "Penny Whimsy" develops a list of the six highest quality coins for each variety---called condition census---whereby a collector may measure the quality of his own coin in relation to the finest six coins known. The condition census list is continually being updated for the Early American Coppers, Inc. by Denis Loring, Del Bland, and other members who donate their time as custodians of the legacy of data compiled through the years. Occasionally the E.A.C. membership is polled for the varieties they own and the condition of them to ascertain if rarity ratings are reasonably accurate. Though the large cent population information will never be completely recorded, the current condition census data is certainly 90% to 95% accurate, and the variety data is about 97% accurate.

The E.A.C. has been planning to publish the newly updated variety information in a slightly modified format, revising the Sheldon numbering system to more easily account for the die combinations discovered in recent times. Publication date was 1976 and now is a future year of your choice. It is coming.

The Sheldon numerical grading system was developed from Fair 1 through Mint State 70 to be used as a multiplier to determine the value of a coin. It could have just as easily been from Fair 10 to Mint State 1000 if it had suited Dr. Sheldon's purpose. This may come as a surprise to some collectors coming upon the coin scene just recently. When Dr. Sheldon wrote his first book. "Early American Cents", in 1949, he decided to incorporate a numerical grading system which would be a function of the current value of each variety. He then assigned a multiplier or basal value that would relate the value of one variety to another, and one date to another. A cent of variety 22 or "S-22" was given a basal value of $1.00, while a cent of variety S-48 was given a basal value of $8.50. Therefore, if both cents were of grade VF-20, the value for the S-22 would be $1.00 x 20 = $20.00, the S-48 would be $8.50 x 20 = $170.00. In "Penny Whimsy", the updated version of his earlier work, Dr. Sheldon added one more factor from 1.5 to 4.0 to be used as a multiplier to accommodate for the great desirability and demand for the coins which ranked in condition census. If the S-48 of the above example was third finest known, its value would be $8.50 x 20 x 2.0 = $340.00, to account for its extra value from its quality ranking. It is understandable that a new dimension should have been incorporated to evaluate a condition census piece. Currently, suggestions have been made to include in condition census, coins that rank among the finest 8, 10, or even 12 known. This idea seems quite valid, considering the increase in information about each variety and the ever greater numbers of collectors in competition for large cent varieties.

There is one tragic problem with Dr. Sheldon's numerical grading system. While it does function quite well with circulated coins and with nice brilliant uncirculated gold and silver coins, it fails in its application to accurately describe uncirculated copper coins. The system applied to modern silver and gold coins needs only to describe the freedom from slight bagging defects and relative strength of strike, while color can generally be neglected. Early U.S. coins, especially the large cents, seldom meet any criteria that might be set for strength of strike or centering. Some varieties of large cents do not exhibit even one single example ideally struck; the dies were improperly made, or failed to hold up very early in the minting process. The color of uncirculated copper defies the singular numerical description.

It seems that it is time to junk the current number system for uncirculated coins unless we develop some system to give points for coins that fall into the Mint State 60 to 70 range. MS-60 does not do justice to a defect-free, well-struck large cent that also happens to be toned a medium brown. MS-60 also does not do justice to a heavily bagged, muffled-struck, fully brilliant and lustrous one either. It becomes obvious that a system describing the attributes plus the sum of the attributes is necessary. For large cents we could have Color, Defects, and Strike for the main attributes, with subdivisions for Color being Brilliance of Luster, Uniformity of Color, Iridescence, or whatever might be deemed necessary to describe Color. Strike could have subdivisions of Centering, Strength of Strike for the variety, and whatever else appropriate to describe Strike. Silver and gold coins could have different subdivisions to adequately describe their attributes. Too little information is conveyed about a coin by a single number without a breakdown of the attributes described by that number. More work and a lot of understanding would be necessary to evolve a more acceptable grading system.

Dr. Sheldon's development of the basal value helps devise a relationship from one variety or year to the next. You will see our adaptation of this basal value system demonstrated in the following text of values for each date we list. When you know the "Coin Dealer Newsletter" bid price for the Draped Bust large cent series, refer to the multiplier or basal value for the specific date you wish to evaluate. Example: 1797 cent basal value is 2.0 times the value of the commonest date of the series (1802, 1803). So Good bid will be 2.0 x $16.00 = $32.00. This, of course, is an approximation of value, other factors "muddy the water". Certain dates or types of large cents are exceedingly scarce in the higher grades listed in the "Coin Dealer Newsletter", so, unfortunately, a linear factor cannot totally determine their values.

Also, the number of coins listed in all dates for the Mint State Specimens column includes some AU-55 examples, because, in my experience, most coins graded AU-55 by the E.A.C. are called at least MS-60 by dealers, collectors and auction houses. I am not trying to be flippant, just trying to give a realistic estimate of the number of coins that will be sold as mint state. Unfortunately, many AU-50 and EF-45 pieces are also designated as "Uncirculated". We will not include them; there is a limit as to how "practical" a person can be.

	Reported Mintage	Number Extant	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Basal Value
1793 Chain	36,103	1,000-1,500	8-15	$75,000	1.0

Five varieties: Ameri---20% premium; Periods---5% premium; America---no premium; one variety semi-unique (its value is more than enough to pay for the book should you find a third one). Popular as a type coin, many porous, damaged, inferior pieces have been left like orphans; the smooth, lovely ones having found loving homes and now only occasionally appear on the market to sell quickly. It is now time to confront the well-worn phrases "struck with rusted dies", "struck on a porous planchet" and "struck on a piece of bituminous coal". Certainly, in the early days, our mint did not have perfect flans, but rarely did the dies get set aside to corrode. So, it is about time coin dealers and auction houses stop making such claims for their examples of the vengeance of nature on copper coins.

1793 Wreath 63,353 2,000-3,000 40-50 $30,000 + 1.0

Thirteen varieties: Vine and bars edge; lettered edge—10% premium; strawberry leaf indeterminate premium (4 coins known); two other R-8 varieties. Popular as a type coin and year coin, since it is the least expensive cent of 1793. Normally, a nice medium brown; a very attractive coin in higher grades.

1793 Liberty Cap 11,056 350-500 1-4 $50,000 + 0.82

Six varieties: No special varieties for type collectors, though four varieties are R-6 or higher. Since no true mint state 1793 Liberty Cap type large cents are known to exist, the above information is for the AU-55 coins. The above basal value relates to the Chain type bid price, but is not linear. In all grades, the Liberty Cap is much rarer than the Chain type, though its value may exceed the Chain type only in grades higher than Very Fine. The dies for the 1793 Liberty Cap were of much less fine detail, more smoothly rounded lines, and are distinctly different than the two previous issues.

1794 Liberty Cap 918,521 27,000-35,000 90-130 $15,000 + 1.05

Sixty-six varieties: Starred reverse variety with about 40 coins known—sells for 50 X a common variety of 1794; seven varieties of head of 1793—sells for 3.4 X common one; seven varieties of head of 1795—12% premium. 1794 is the "personality" year of the early cents, with such a varied number of die changes from the 1793 style to the 1795 style. It is easy to understand why so many large cent variety collectors are drawn to this date.

1795 Lettered Edge 37,000 600-800 15-20 $10,000 + 1.40

Six varieties: That is, six varieties, if we include the reeded edge 1795 (with six coins known) and the lettered edge Jefferson head (with three coins known). It seems that the lettered edge 1795 cent is the "sleeper" of the early large cent series. It is indeed fortunate that everyone collecting large cents does not need one!

1795 Plain Edge 501,500 12,000-15,000 60-80 $6,500 + 1.0

Six varieties: The plain edge Jefferson head with about 40 coins known sells for 35 X a common 1795. Excluding the Jefferson head varieties, which are usually very dark, most mint state 1795 cents are a medium, chestnut brown with minute patched areas where the striking failed to obliterate the planchet roughness.

1796 Liberty Cap 109,825 2,500-4,000 25-35 $8,500 + 1.15

Eleven varieties: The style of the 1796 cents is very similar to the 1793 Liberty Cap cents—with a low, rounded relief. This date is quite difficult to obtain in EF and higher condition.

1796 Draped Bust 363,375 5,000-8,000 125-175 $7,000 + 3.0

Thirty-four varieties: Two "Liberty" varieties sell for about 1.7 X the common varieties. One variety was among the Nichols Find hoard and contributes the major portion of the mint state coins known. Actually, considering the number of varieties issued, this date is difficult to obtain in EF or better condition.

1797 Draped Bust 897,510 18,000-25,000 200-275 $5,000 + 2.0

Thirty-two varieties: Gripped edge sells for 1.55 X common variety; reverse of 1796 type sells for 1.7 X common ones; stemless wreath variety sells for 2.25 X common variety. The large number of mint state coins for this date are contributed by two die varieties found in the Nichols Find hoard. The rest of the varieties are quite scarce in mint state.

1798 Draped Bust 1,841,745 35,000-50,000 90-125 $4,500 + 1.6

Forty-six varieties: 1798/7 variety sells for 2.4 X common variety; reverse of 1796 sells for 2.4 X common ones; "style one" hair 5% more than "style two" hair. The "style one" hair type of 1798 is about twice as scarce as the second hair style. This date is popular as the least expensive pre-1800 coin in the entire U.S. series.

1799 Draped Bust 42,540 1,300-2,000 None ——— 41.0

Two varieties. The 1799/8 sells at a 10% premium. This date is very rare in top condition, with two coins known in AU, none known in EF, and the rest of the population VF 35 or less. Also, most coins tend toward the dark side, some are even quite black. The date is low, near the edge of the coin, and consequently, it may be very weak. Many coins exist with the 1798 date altered to appear as 1799. Be careful—get a certificate of authenticity on this date!

1800 Draped Bust 2,822,175 15,000-22,500 40-60 $4,500 + 1.25

Twenty-nine varieties: 1800/798 "style one" hair sells for a 40% premium above common variety 1800 cent; 1800/79 "style two" hair—no premium. In spite of the size of its mintage, 1800 cents are difficult to obtain from EF up to Uncirculated condition. The coins tend to be a little dark colored, though not as dark as 1799.

1801 Draped Bust 1,362,837 25,000-40,000 35-50 $4,500 + 1.25

Sixteen varieties: There are some crazy varieties this year (dazed or crazed mint employees?) The guy who did the obverses had the hang of it, but the guy doing the reverses just could not quiet get it right. "Three errors" variety—2.5 X the common variety; 1/000 variety—1.4 X the common price; 1/100/000 variety—1.8 X common. As with the year 1800, 1801 cents are difficult to obtain in mint state, however they are easier to find in EF or AU. The fact that there are such unusual reverse errors on six of the die varieties makes 1801 one of the more interesting years to collect.

1802 Draped Bust 3,435,100 60,000-100,000 95-125 $3,000 + 1.0

Twenty varieties: 1/000 variety—1.4 X common variety; stemless wreath variety—1.2 X common. None of the unusual die varieties for 1802 are even scarce (this makes it easy for the collector of error reverses). The coins of 1802 are plentiful—with lots of smooth, brown, well struck examples available in all grades.

1803 Draped Bust 3,131,691 70,000-125,000 170-225 $2,850 + 1.0

Twenty-four varieties: Small date-small fraction variety and the large date-small fraction variety are common; large date-small fraction sells for 30 X the common varieties—with about 40 coins known; large date-large fraction sells for 3.2 X the common ones; 1/100/000 variety is worth 1.5 X common; stemless wreath sells for 1.4 X common ones. 1803 is another interesting year—not only are there some very distinctive obverse and reverse die combinations but most of the coins can be purchased in the higher grades. By this time the mint has their act together, the dies were holding up for many more impressions than at any previous time; the coins produced are really beautiful.

1804 Draped Bust 96,500 1,000-1,800 None 21.0

One variety: None known in mint state, seven in AU (three of which would probably be advertised as UNC and possibly would sell for $25,000 or more). A key early large cent, sought by date collectors and in the same rarity class as the 1799 except that 1804 is more readily available in the middle and higher grades. A "restrike" was made in the 1860's from an altered 1803 obverse and an 1818 reverse. Both dies were rusted, the obverse is found with a heavy die break. It is currently worth about $450.

1805 Draped Bust 941,116 25,000-50,000 12-20 $4,000 + 1.18

Three varieties: All three varieties are relatively easy to obtain, however, mint state pieces are very scarce—not many to go around for the date collectors. It really does not command a price commensurate with its rarity.

1806 Draped Bust 384,000 8,000-12,000 7-12 $5,500 + 2.0

One variety: A tougher date with very few true mint state pieces known. It is an occasion if one should appear on the market. Another unbelievable bargain in terms of its rarity!

1807 Draped Bust 829,221 30,000-45,000 35-65 $3,250 + 1.05

Six varieties: For this last year of the draped bust series we are back to something interesting for the variety collectors. With only six varieties, 1807 is a power-packed year. There is the "comet variety" valued at 1.4 X a common one; the 1807/6 large 7 is common; the 1807/6 small 7 valued at 30 X a common one; the large fraction is common; the small fraction rates 1.4 X a common one. There are quite a few 1807/6 large 7 mint state pieces available, though most appear to be bluntly struck do to die failure.

Common date coins in the following listings were computed on a basis of gold at $527.00 per ounce.

LARGE CENT ANALYSIS

PART TWO

by Jack H. Beymer

The Classic Head large cent series is the subject of a lot of folkloric speculations. "A Guidebook of U.S. Coins" by R.S. Yeoman refers to a purer copper content with its poorer wearability as the reason for the scarcity of high quality coins for this series. This may be true. However, the scarcity is probably more due to the low number of coins issued than to the metal content. If you consider that more coins were issued in 1801 and 1802 than the entire Classic Head series, the picture becomes clearer. There are not many to go around for all of the date and type collectors out there. The "purer copper" syndrome has been responsible for many statements regarding porous coins of this series. But, in fact, the choice coins are taken up as quickly as they arrive on the market; those left behind are the "uglies"---the orphans. These porous coins remaining are not a statement for the "pure copper" corroding quickly, but rather a testimony to the popularity of this series!

The mint state specimens column in the following analysis includes coins graded AU-55 as well as MS-60 and higher by Early American Coppers, Inc.

The basal value column shows a factor to be multiplied times the Coin Dealer Newsletter common date bid to determine the value for the specific date you wish to evaluate. Example: 1811 basal value is 2.05---thus its value for Good condition is 2.05 x $21.00 = $43.00 ($21.00 being the bid value.)

	Reported Mintage	Number Extant	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Basal Value
1808	1,007,000	20,000-40,000	30-50	$4,000+	1.06

Three varieties: No scarce varieties. The "twelve star" variety is due to a sinking die. The obverse die detail for this date is somewhat rounded---not deeply cut---making this date less sought-after by type collectors.

1809	222,867	6,000-10,000	10-20	$8,000+	2.95

One variety: The scarcest single date of this type. Die cutting very similar to 1808 with shallow obverse detail. Further, the obverse seems almost convex---the head quite high with very little protective rims; the reverse is protected with higher rims. As this date wears, the reverse exceeds the obverse by at least a full grade. Difficult to obtain in EF or better condition. The color for this date is usually quite dark; very few light brown coins exist.

1810	1,458,000	40,000-60,000	40-65	$3,500+	1.0

Five varieties: 1810/09 is common, though sought-after as an overdate.

1811	218,025	6,500-11,000	15-25	$6,500+	2.05

Two varieties: 1811/10 is worth 12% premium is lower grades, more in EF or higher. It is unknown in true UNC; three AU coins are recorded that might sell as UNC. 1811/10 is scarcer than 1809---but, because of the regular 1811, it sells for less. This date is also darker than other dates of this type (except for 1809).

1812	1,075,000	30,000-50,000	30-50	$3,500+	1.0

Four varieties: Two each, large and small date varieties.

1813	418,000	11,000-18,000	15-35	$5,000+	1.4

Two varieties: 1813/2 or "distant star variety". Overdate noticeable only on coins of early die state. The second variety is the "close star" variety.

1814	357,830	15,000-30,000	50-100	$3,000+	1.00

Two varieties: Plain four, common. Crosslet four, slightly scarcer—especially so in EF or better. This date is generally considered common. However, it is proving to be a little scarcer in the middle grades than the other even numbered dates. It is definitely the easiest to acquire in mint state. Dr. Sheldon states this date is not seen with brilliant luster. In my experience, all Classic Head large cents are rare in brilliant red uncirculated—but most of the red, brilliant ones known are dated 1814. To quote Bruce Amspacher, noted Silver Dollar commentator, the only "Godzilla" of the Classic Head series I have seen was dated 1814.

CORONET VARIETY

We have divided the "Coronet Variety" from 1816 to 1839 as listed in the Coin Dealer Newsletter into four groups as shown below in the date listing.

The entire Coronet large cent series is extremely interesting and offers the collector a bargain in this day of high priced, late date mint state type coins.

A new revision of Howard R. Newcomb's "United States Copper Cents 1816-1857" is being completed by E.A.C. members John W..ight and Jules Reiver, and will be issued in at least two volume.

For this series the "Number Extant" column will be excluded, and we will list information regarding rarity and value of proof large cents of these years. For many of these years the cents struck in proof are so rare that their value is strictly speculative and their appearance on the market is an occasion for celebration. Only the super-affluent and super-patient need apply themselves to the task of collecting a set of proof large cents, because, in our lifetime only a portion of the dates will ever present themselves for public sale. A word of caution regarding proof large cents: since regular dies were "spruced up" to strike proofs, then returned to their duty of coining regular circulation coins, many proof-like business strike pieces exist---and may be offered as proofs.

The purchase of Walter Breen's "Encyclopedia of United States and Colonial Proof Coins---1722-1977" will certainly enlighten the curious numismatist regarding U.S. proof coins. It is an epic work.

MATRON HEAD TYPE

	Reported Mintage	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Proof Specimens	Proof-60 Value	Basal Value
1816	2,820,982	5000+	$325+	0	-	1.9

We will no longer list the number of varieties---except those of special note. The great number of surviving mint state coins of 1816, 1817, 1818, 1819, and 1820 are attributed to the "Randall Hoard", discovered around 1867 in Georgia. 1816 is popular as the first year of issue. Also, it is a complete 1816 "type set" since no other denominations were issued. This year, along with 1817 and 1818, seldom has sharply defined features. Thus they are less sought-after by type collectors than their 1819 and 1820 "Randall Hoard" counterparts.

1817	3,948,400	5000+	$290+	2-3	Spec.	1.3

"Fifteen stars variety" 1.9 x premium. This the first year for proof coins. With only two or three specimens known, their value will be listed as speculative. Unless you marry into a family owning one or get named heir to the appropriate estate, it is doubtful that mere money could purchase one (though "Bunkie" might be able to get one).

1818	3,167,000	5000+	$290+	0	Spec.	1.3

Many red uncirculated pieces available, though they are mostly spotted. We list 5000+ for the uncirculated coins known, though it is possible as many as 10,000 could exist. This date is the most common of the "Randall Hoard" cents---with 1817 and 1820 next, then 1816 and 1819 the least common.

1819	2,671,000	5000+	$325+	3-6	Spec.	1.3

1819/8 valued at 1.6 x; 1819 large date 1.2 x the common small date type. This date is esthetically more pleasing than the previous three years---with much finer detail.

1820	4,407,550	5000+	$400+	2-3	Spec.	1.3

1820/19 1.4 x common; large and small dates are common. The common "Randall Hoard" variety is so finely detailed with lovely surfaces and mellow iridescent colors that it commands a premium above its other keg-mates.

1821	389,000	25-40	$3000+	10-15	$15,000+	3.9

Close date and wide date of equal rarity—common in lower condition and scarce in VF and better. At last, a date with collectable proofs—rare, but possible.

1822	2,072,339	125-225	$800+	6-12	$15,000+	1.6

Close and wide date varieties.

1823	200,000+	12-20	$4750+	4-7	$20,000+	5.7

The above basal value and MS-60 price is for the 1823/2 variety. 1823 sells for 1.2 x the 1823/2 variety. The mintage figure is only an estimate; 1823 is the "key" of the late dates. Restrike variety—$375.

1824	1,262,000	80-125	$1500+	0	-	1.9

1824/2 2.3 x common.

1825	1,461,100	90-150	$1000+	4-7	$15,000+	1.6
1826	1,517,425	150-250	$750+	0	-	1.6

1826/5 variety 3 x common; wide date 2 x common; close date is common.

1827	2,357,732	100-175	$825+	8-12	$12,500+	1.3
1828	2,260,624	130-180	$800+	2-3	Spec.	1.3

The small date sells for 1.5 x common; large date is common.

1829	1,414,500	65-100	$1000+	15-18	$12,500+	1.4

The large letter reverse variety is common; the medium letter reverse is worth 2.2 x common. About half of the proofs this year are bronzed---the other half is brilliant. Many large cent collectors call 1829 the "sleeper" of this series. They are tough to find when you need one.

1830	1,711,500	85-125	$750+	4-6	$20,000+	1.3

Large letter reverse is common; the medium letter reverse 3.5 x common.

1831	3,359,260	185-250	$500+	16-20	$11,000+	1.15

Medium letter and large letter reverses are both common. One-sided proofs exist in this era. John Wright reports the 1831 small letter reverses were struck from 1831 up to 1835 concurrent with coins of those later dates.

1832	2,362,000	150-200	$550+	2	$25,000+	1.2

Medium and large letter reverses are both common.

1833	2,739,000	165-225	$500+	0	-	1.15

1833/2 exists---but barely visible; "horney 8" is also a common variety. Jerry Bobbe, my "informed source" on proofs, claims no real proof exists for 1833 despite reports to the contrary.

1834	1,855,100	400-600	$400+	8-12	$14,000+	1.35

Small date, large stars, medium reverse letters and the large date, small stars medium letters are both common. Large date, stars, and letters variety 2.5 x common and the large date and stars, medium letters variety 4.75 x the common variety.

1835	3,878,400	100-150	$650+	3-5	Spec.	1.35

The above MS-60 data is for the "fat lady" type. Small 8 variety common; large 8 variety 1.15 x common.

YOUNG HEAD, Plain Hair Cord

1835	incl. above	125-185	$500+	1	Spec.	1.1
1836	2,111,000	400-550	$425+	3-5	Spec.	1.1
1837	5,558,300	750-1000	$325+	3-4	$15,000+	1.0

Small letters reverse is worth 1.45 x common, medium letters is common.

YOUNG HEAD, Beaded Hair Cord

1837	incl. above	405-600	$325+	3-4	$15,000+	1.0
1838	6,370,200	1000+	$290+	12-15	$11,000+	1.0
1839	3,128,661	275-375	$550+	0	-	1.25

Included in the above is also the 1839/6 valued at 20 x common ones; booby head 1.15 x common; silly head 1.35 x common. A very popular year for collectors.

PETITE HEAD, Braided Hair

1839	incl. above	125-175	$500+	0	-	1.6
1840	2,462,700	700+	$350+	20-30	$8,000+	1.1

Small date over large date 1.7 x common; the 1840/39 overdate so faint it is barely visible.

1841	1,597,367	600+	$375+	75-125	$6,500+	1.2

Poorly struck proofs exist and they are worth considerably less.

1842	2,383,390	800+	$350+	5-7	$12,500+	1.1

Small and large dates are both common.

1843	2,425,342	900+	$350+	12-15	$9,000+	1.1

Small letters reverse is common; large letters reverse 4 x common.

MATURE HEAD, Braided Hair

1843	incl. above	-	$375+	0	-	1.5
1844	2,398,752	900+	$335+	15-20	$6,000+	1.05

1844/81 is valued at 2.5 x common.

1845	3,894,804	1200+	$300+	10-15	$6,000+	1.0
1846	4,120,800	1500+	$275+	20-25	$6,000+	1.0

Small date is common; medium date 1.6 x common; tall date 1.2 x common.

1847	6,183,669	1500+	$275+	15-20	$6,000+	1.0

Large 7 over small 7 valued at 2.9 x common.

1848	6,415,799	2000+	$275+	30-35	$6,000+	1.0
1849	4,178,500	2000+	$275+	15-20	$6,000+	1.0

1849/8 overdate is so faint it is virtually invisible.

1850	4,426,844	2000+	$275+	8-10	$7,500+	1.0
1851	9,889,707	2000+	$275+	0	-	1.0

1851/81 valued at 1.7 x the common 1851.

1852	5,063,094	2000+	$275	4-6	$10,000+	1.0

Beware of proof-like business strike N-8 cents passing as proofs.

1853	6,641,131	2000+	$275+	0	--	1.0
1854	4,236,156	2000+	$275+	50-60	$4,500+	1.0
1855	2,690,463	2000+	$275+	50-60	$4,500+	1.0

Slant and upright 5 are both common.

1856	2,690,463	2000+	$275+	150-200	$4,000+	1.0

Slant and upright 5 are both common.

1857	333,456	1200+	$300+	150-200	$4,000+	4.75

Small and large date are about equal in value, though in uncirculated condition the small date is slightly scarcer.

(I would like to thank Del Bland for his help with business strikes and Jerry Bobbe for lending me his expertise in the proof series.)

Common date coins in the following listings were computed on a basis of gold at $483.50 per ounce.

The more common date silver rolls were computed on a basis of silver bullion at $11.17 per ounce.

CIRCULATED ROLLS

Earlier rolls average good; later rolls usually include higher grades.

...a price listing for MS-67 COMMEMORATIVES

by Anthony Swiatek

One exceptionally interesting area of numismatics where coins possess a mystique uniquely their own and one which has not been completely understood is the field of U.S. commemorative coinage. It is an area that is about to offer numismatics "a shot in its arm" that it so desperately needs---to take it out of the doldrums.

In the past (1966-1975), not too many individuals invested in or collected these "rememberance preservers that hold our history frozen in metal." Instead, the greater percentage of investors choose to acquire the popular Morgan and Peace cartwheels, the Barber issues and copper coinage---all beautiful in their own right.

Digressing, I would like to note that the combined total of these individuals, plus the amount they invested in coins, can in no way compare to the dominant influx of investor/collector dollars which appeared on the numismatic scene between late 1978 and early 1980! Such would be like comparing an army of a weak nation against a major power. It was this "human immigration" which brought our field into the limelight, providing many dealers---old and new, honest and dishonest---with wealth beyond their wildest dreams.

Between the years 1966 and 1975, our numismatic market was a "thin market." One company or wealthy person could control a series or cause an issue to rise or fall (an ego trip resulting in the feeling of short lived importance simply because the existing supply of most coins were greater than the demand for them.) This condition usually resulted in the eventual location of most desired coins (type, etc.) in a short period of time. Hopefully, these coins---from all areas of numismatics---will be able to meet today's grading criteria, for I remember when a single lustrous coin, or lustrous original roll (be it dollars, or commemorative halves or whatever of importance) were offered, they would usually be labelled "gems" because of their blazing luster! Few paid much attention to excessive marks in critical locations on the coin's "gem" blazing surfaces. Also, there existed an insignificant price spread for most issues between the uncirculated states. Just examine the Grey Sheet prices from 1973 to 1978 and see for yourself.

Those who knew how to properly grade coins are winners today, while those who thought they got a "buy" have heard the "clock strike twelve" and watched their "blazing coach turn into a pumpkin!" These coins now equate to choice specimens, now known as "commercial MS-65." They may be better than MS-63---but do not quite make true MS-65---due to luster state, marks and sometimes strike. These are the coins that Allen Harriman would label "close---but not good enough."

Commemorative coins, or "rememberance preservers" as I like to call them, begin by offering the possessor: (1) many fantastic coin designs that are most aesthetically pleasing; (2) history in "metal time capsules" containing many interesting events of our past; (3) issues of many low mintage figures which make the aforementioned so very desirable to investors and collectors, especially since many issues are not available in MS-65 condition as indicated by current pricing; (4) popularity, for this series is constantly adding to its fold many investors and collectors whose goal is the assemblage of either a 50 or 144 piece set---or simply to add certain issues to their existing type coin portfolio; (5) great profits to those who invest today for the future. Why, from May 26, 1978 to May 22, 1981, the commemorative silver series attained a 61.5% price increase or growth compounded annually!

Since 1968, this area of numismatics has constantly realized excellent price gains. It was only recently that this series was manipulated by several dealers---whose large combined hoard (over $3 million) was for the greater part "close---but not good enough"---as noted by many who examined these coins (from AU to MS-65). When Allen Harriman noted he would---in the near future---add a MS-63 column to the Grey Sheet, the "great dumping" began. "Get your "gem" commems at 20% to 30% under MS-65 bid! Nothing is wrong with coins graded below MS-65! Simply know how to grade and pay a proper or correct price for the material offered to you. But what do you do if your MS-65 is an artificially toned AU? The supply of these "rememberance preservers" is rapidly depleating because true quality is being tucked away---making it very difficult for dealers to accrue promotable positions in the series.

Remember, it is the MS-63---or LESS---but especially the MS-63+/MS-65 or MS-64 coins which are so often sold as MS-65 in this series (or most other areas of numismatics) as MS-65. How many slider Bust half dollars are offered as Choice or Gem BU? Due to the existing supply on today's market they can easily be promoted. Commems are in the limelight---thus it is their turn! The "full band" Mercury dimes and our cartwheels may be the next targets. Again, nothing is wrong with coins graded MS-60 or MS-63, as long as they are not sold and purchased as MS-65!

In concluding, those who possess scarce circulated MS-60, MS-63 coins as well as true MS-65 quality specimens in many areas of numismatics are tomorrow's winners. Hopefully, the negatives of numismatics will not destroy the field that has been so good to so many!

As far as grading criteria is concerned, I am in full agreement with Allen Harriman's detailed descriptions cited in the May 1, 1981 Grey Sheet weekly edition. Let us begin with an analysis of the U.S. Commemorative series in Grey Sheet order, combined with my estimated MS-67 values. Many who are very familiar with the series will agree. Some will disagree. And perhaps others will "open their eyes". This is the first attempt to list values for this grade! Remember, if one has a virtually unlimited amount to spend, how long would it take to locate ten accurately graded MS-67 Isahella quarters, Lafayette dollars, Vancouvers, Delawares---??

ISSUE	MINTAGE	MS-67 VALUE
1893 Isabella 25¢	(24,191)	$3,500+

One rare and elusive issue, possessing fantastic investment potential in true MS-65 and better condition. Difficult to locate at sheet levels.

1900 Lafayette $1	(36,000)	$12,000+

A very rare undervalued issue in true grade MS-63+, and especially better. Also difficult to locate at sheet levels.

1921 Alabama 2 x 2	(6,000)	$2,500+
Alabama Plain	(59,000)	$2,500+

Two undervalued issues that are equally as rare in true MS-65 and better condition, due to much numismatic abuse involving the "plain" issue. Difficult to locate at the sheet prices.

1936 Albany	(25,000)	$650+

Due to numismatic abuse and the excessive use of dip---this low mintage issue is rapidly drying-up in MS-65+ or better condition.

1937 Antietam	(18,000)	$900+

As with the Albany, excessive contacts marks and "the dip" eliminate many specimens from the MS-65+ and better category. A hoard of 400 pieces exists, but falls mostly in the MS-63+ and to a lesser degree, the MS-65 category.

1935 Arkansas PDS	(5,500)	$1,200
1936 Arkansas PDS	(9,650)	$1,100
1937 Arkansas PDS	(5,500)	$1,200
1938 Arkansas PDS	(3,150)	$2,000+
1939 Arkansas PDS	(2,100)	$3,500+

Poor die and planchet preparation, thus lackluster or dull in appearance throughout, for most issues. Heavy numismatic abuse! All sets are excellent investment in true MS-65 and better. Sheet price reflects the MS-63+/65 set. Worth that value for such sets. Same applies to the additional 1935-P mintage.

1936 Bay Bridge	(71,369)	$400+

Becoming more difficult to locate in MS-65+ condition than ever before. Mintage figure does not reflect numismatic scarcity.

1934 Boone	(10,000)	$475+

Quite elusive in MS-65+ and better condition. Very undervalued.

1935 Boone PDS	(5,000)	$975+

Original 65+ specimens are quite difficult to locate.

1935/4 Boone PDS	(2,000)	$3,000+

Due to obverse die preparation, D & S issues will have a matt or dull appearance. Very rare set in MS-65 and better.

1936 Boone PDS	(5,000)	$975+

Same comments as for the '35 set.

1937 Boone PDS	(2,500)	$2,000+

Rare and undervalued in true MS-65 and better.

1938 Boone PDS	(2,100)	$3,000+

More elusive in true MS-65 and better condition than generally realized. Numismatic abuse has not been kind to this series. Sheet prices reflect those 63+/65 or "commercial MS-65" specimens.

1936 Bridgeport	(25,000)	$700+

Not as abundant in MS-65 or better condition as some believe. Due to excessive marks on portrait or reverse eagle. Very scarce and undervalued. Majority of original pieces fall into the commercial category.

1925-S California Jubillee	(86,394)	$700+

A scarce and undervalued coin in MS-65+ condition especially with that blazing semi-prooflike surface. Too many "commercials" sold for MS-65.

1936 Cincinnati PDS	(5,000)	$3,800+

Rare in true MS-65 condition. Very rare in MS-65+ due to heavy bag marks, poor die and planchet preparation at the P & S mints and much numismatic abuse. Sheet reflects the "commercial MS-65-close" coins. This issue possesses our rarest type commemorative.

1936 Cleveland	(50,000)	$325+

Same comments as for the Bridgeport issue---but to a slightly lesser degree. "Commercially", they are abundant.

1936 Columbia PDS	(8,000)	$2,200+

Existing true MS-65+ and better specimens are drying up rapidly. Such will soon be the case for those eye-appealing MS-65 pieces.

1892 Columbian	(950,000)	$850+
1893 Columbian	(1,548,300)	$850+

Forget the mintage figure here! A sleeper with fantastic potential in true MS-65 and better condition. Most of the offered gem specimens have too many surface contact marks to make the true grade. Difficult to purchase at sheet levels.

1935 Connecticut	(25,000)	$900+

Excessive bag marks heavily affect this coin's reverse. Normally well struck, MS-65+ gems can be very difficult to locate. Much scarcer than generally realized!

1936 Delaware	(20,978)	$1000+

Very difficult to locate in MS-65+ and better condition, due to numismatic abuse, especially on the coin's obverse. Difficult to locate at sheet price in true MS-65.

MS-67 COMMEMORATIVES (Continued from Page One)

1936 Elgin (20,000) $650+
Very scarce and underpriced in MS-65+ condition. Excessive marks will take their toll on this issue.

1936 Gettysburg (26,900) $800+
Quite scarce and undervalued in MS-65+ and better condition. The villain once again makes his appearance as excessive bag marks in critical locations on the coin surfaces. At times "commercially" offered in roll form, as are other issues. How many pieces truly make the grade?

1922 Grant w/star (4,250) $8,000+
Rare in true MS-60 and MS-63 condition. Extremely rare and underpriced in MS-65 condition or better---if and when such can be located! Circulated and artificially toned coins are often offered as UNC or better!

1922 Grant Plain (67,350) $600+
Forget the mintage! Scarce in true MS-65 condition. Very scarce in MS-65+ state or better.

1928 Hawaiian (9,950) $5,500+
A rare coin in MS-65 condition. A very rare coin in MS-65+. Heavy numismatic abuse is responsible for such. Commercial-65 pieces usually offered at sheet prices.

1935 Hudson (10,000) $2,500+
Sheet price is no reflection of true MS-65 rarity. Many offered issues are "commercial-65" or less. Very rare in MS-65+ or better, due to abuse. Rarer than the beautiful Spanish Trail.

1924 Huguenot-Walloon (142,000) $650+
Can be difficult to locate in true MS-65. Very difficult to locate in MS-65+ or better.

1946 Iowa (100,000) $275+
At present, not too difficult to locate in the gem states. Improper dipping is beginning to show its effect on this issue.

1925 Lexington (161,914) $650+
Due to abuse, not as common as trends would indicate in MS-65. Many "commercial" offerings. Truly scarce and vastly underrated above MS-65.

1918 Lincoln (100,000) $950+
Very difficult to locate in true MS-65+ condition or better. Numismatic abuse is responsible.

1936 Long Island (81,773) $275+
Scarce and underrated in MS-65+ or better.

1936 Lynchburg (20,000) $700+
Becoming somewhat difficult to locate in true MS-65. Scarce and underrated above this grade.

1920 Maine (50,000) $1100+
Very scarce and underpriced in true MS-65. "Commercial-65" pieces plague this issue. Most difficult to locate in MS-65+ and better, due to numismatic abuse.

1934 Maryland (25,000) $925+
Scarce and underpriced in true MS-65 condition. Very difficult to locate in MS-65+ or better. Commercial-65 peices hold the true MS-65 price down because of their abundance. (Same for the Maine issue.)

1921 Missouri 2 x 4 (5,000) $4,000+
Most difficult to locate in true MS-63+/65. Exceptionally difficult to locate in true MS-65 or better. Sheet prices are not realistic due to overgraded offerings.

1921 Missouri Plain (15,400) $4,000+
Equally as rare as the 2 x 4 variety. Above comments apply to this issue.

1923-S Monroe (274,000) $1,400+
Due to excessive bag marks and/or slide marks, this issue is most difficult to locate ture in MS-65. The sheet price reflects a price for commercial-65 pieces. An exceptionally difficult coin to locate in MS-65+ condition or better.

1938 New Rochelle (15,251) $1000+
Due to excessive bag marks and heavy dippings, issue is abundant in commercial-65. True MS-65 can be difficult to locate at sheet price. Very scarce and underpriced in MS-65+ or better.

1936 Norfolk (16,923) $900+
Gem MS-65+ and better specimens were around in the past in quantity. The heavy "dip artists" are changing this status rapidly. This is an issue where a little improper dipping drops most of this design into commercial grading.

1926-P Oregon Trail (47,925) $375+
Becoming scarce in MS-65+ or better due to much numismatic abuse.

1926-S Oregon Trail (83,000) $375+
Same comments as for the 1926-P.

1928-P Oregon Trail (6,000) $1,000+
Very elusive and underpriced in true MS-65 or better. Many commercial-65 pieces offered at sheet prices.

1933-D Oregon Trail (4,998) $1,000+
Not as difficult to locate as the '28-P or '36-S. But difficult to locate in MS 65+ or better condition--due to numismatic abuse.

1934-D Oregon Trail (7,000) $575+
Gem MS-65+ specimens can be located. Situation is rapidly changing!

1936-P Oregon Trail (10,000) $550+
Existing supply is drying up. What will exists in five years. Same comments as for the 1934-D.

1936-S Oregon Trail (5,000) $1,000+
Same comments as for the 1928-P.

1937-D Oregon Trail (12,000) $550+
Same comments as for the 1934-D.

1938 Oregon Trail PDS (6,000) $1,800+
Original gem specimens can be very elusive. Beware of the commercial-65 sets.

1939 Oregon Trail PDS (3,000) $2,400+
Same comments as for the 1938 set.

1915-S Panama Pacific (27,134) $6,500+
Very rare in true MS-65, MS-65+ and better condition. Last promotion produced many "close-but not good enough" or commercial-65 coins---upon inspection---offered as the "real thing." Issue has received much numismatic abuse.

1920 Pilgrim (152,000) $675+
Difficult to locate in true MS-65 condition. Very scarce and underpriced in the MS-65+ state or better. Large mintage---if you can call it that---plus much abuse equals an excellent coin to purchase.

1921 Pilgrim (20,000) $850+
Truly scarce and vastly undervalued in MS-65 or better. Forget sheet price.

1936 Rhode Island PDS (15,000) $1,000+
This set is not difficult to locate in commercial-65. Excessive nicks and bag mark plague this rather unimpressive looking issue. It is scarce and underrated in MS-65+ condition. The D-mint specimen received more TLC.

1936 Roanoke (29,000) $650+
Close examination will reveal that those easy to locate blazing gem specimens are not as abundant as believed. Numismatic abuse, plus heavy dipping has made this issue somewhat scarce in MS-65+ condition. Have you examined your coins lately? Abundant in the commercial state!

1936 Robinson Arkansas (25,250) $700+
Abundant in "commercial-65"; this issue is truly scarce and undervalued in MS-65+ or better condition. Numismatic abuse has taken its toll on true gem specimens. That portrait is critical concerning slide marks and "more than a few nicks."

1935-S San Diego (70,000) $675+
Don't be fooled by the mintage figure. Due to excessive scratches and nicks on knees and breast, many blazers grade "commercial-65". Scarce and underpriced in true MS-65+ and better condition.

1935-D San Diego (30,000) $775+
Same comments as for the 35-D issue.

1926 Sesquicentennial (140,592) $3,000+
Very difficult to locate in true MS-65 for most offerings as such are MS-63+ or commercial-65. Very rare and drastically underpriced in MS-65+ condition, thanks to numismatic abuse and die preparation.

1936 Spanish Trail (10,000) $2,400+
Numismatic abuse is rapidly making this issue very scarce in true MS-65+ or better condition.

1925 Stone Mountain (1,310,000) $150+
Available in all mint states.

1934-P Texas (61,350) $300+
Available in all mint states.

1935 Texas PDS (9,988) $1,000+
True MS-65+ sets are underrated. A large percentage of "S" mint coins have that washed-out look, while the "D" mint issue can present the most fantastic coin of the Texas series.

1936 Texas PDS (8,903) $925+
A set where three coins usually exist in silvery white blaze. However, Gem 65+ supply is being absorbed.

1937 Texas PDS (6,566) $1,300+
Very underrated and scarce in true MS-65 and better, due to poor die and planchet preparation, plus numismatic abuse.

1938 Texas PDS (3,770) $2,200+
Very, very scarce and underpriced. Most coins have that washed-out look, thanks to very poor die and planchet preparation! Commercial-65 coins and less are offered as the "real thing."

1925 Vancouver (14,966) $2,400+
Very difficult to locate in true MS-65. Exceptionally difficult in 65+ condition. Sheet prices usually deliver "commercial-65" or less.

1927 Vermont (28,108) $1,200+
Very scarce and undervalued in MS-65+ condition. Many "commercial-65" and lesser pieces offered as true MS-65 pieces.

CIRCULATED ROLLS

This section has been removed from this one issue in order to make room for this month's lengthy and important article on MS-67 commems. Prices for the circulated rolls are basically unchanged and reference to last month's issue is recommended if specific price levels are needed.

MS-67 COMMEMORATIVES (Continued from Page Two)

1946 BTW PDS	(100,000)	$200+
1947 BTW PDS	(50,000?)	$300+
1948 BTW PDS	(12,000)	$500+
1949 BTW PDS	(6,000)	$800+
1950 BTW PDS	(6,000)	$800+
1951 BTW PDS	(7,000)	$800+

The entire series is extremely elusive and very scarce in true MS-65+ condition throughout (1946-1951), due to heavy numismatic and lack of TLC. Sheet prices reflect those "close", or commercial-65 coins.

1951 WC PDS	(10,000?)	$800+
1952 WC PDS	(8,000?)	$800+
1953 WC PDS	(8,000?)	$800+
1954 WC PDS	(8,000)	$800+

Same comments as for the BTW issues.

1936 Wisconsin (25,000) $650+
Still located without excessively difficulty in MS-65+ condition, but heavy dipping will cause this situation to change in the very near future.

1936 York (25,000) $700
Bag marks, abrasions and especially improper or heavy dipping have demoted a large number of this so-called abundant issue into the commercial-65 state.

GOLD ISSUES

1903 La. Pur/Jefferson (17,375) $2,600+
Difficult to locate in true MS-65. Sheet price usually produces the "commercial one". Very scarce and undervalued in MS-65+ condition. A little more difficult to locate than the McKinley.

1903 La. Pur/McKinley (17,375) $2,500+
Same comments as for the Jefferson issue. When gold commems attained their previous high, few were available. What coins properly graded could be available now!

1904 Lewis & Clark (9,997) $9,000+
Very rare and undervalued in true MS-65 or better condition. Sheet prices mostly produce "commercial-65" or AU pieces for the "real thing".

1905 Lewis & Clark (10,000) $9,000+
Same comments as for the 1904 issue. Somewhat more difficult to locate than the aforementioned.

1915-S Pan-Pacific $1.00 (15,000) $4,500+
Previously overpriced in MS-65. Not as abundant in MS-67 condition as believed.

1915-S Pan-Pacific $2.50 (6,749) $12,000+
Very rare and underpriced true MS-63 and above. Sheet prices almost always produce commercial-65 to EF-AU specimens for the MS-65 grade.

1916 McKinley (9,997) $1,900+
True MS-65+ specimens have been rapidly drying up via loss to numismatic abuse, plus the placement of such into collections. Commercial-65 specimens usually offered for the "real thing".

1917 McKinley (10,000) $2,100+
Same comments as above. Somewhat rarer than the 1916 issue.

1922 Grant Plain (5,000) $5,500+
The once not too elusive gem MS-65+ specimens are not too often encountered---properly graded---because of heavy dipping which has destroyed the coin's surfaces, placing many into the true MS-63+ category or commercial-65.

1922 Grant with star (5,000) $5,250+
Same comments as for the plain issue. Somewhat easier to locate in 65+ condition.

1926 Sesquicentennial (45,793) $2,500
Ignore the mintage! Quite scarce and undervalued, in true MS-65+ condition because of excessive bag and slide marks. Sheet prices usually produce the commercial-65!

In closing, Gerald L. Bauman of MTB constantly reminds me that "If these gold issues were not around---properly graded---at previous highs, how can they be available at lower prices? Truer words have never been spoken! The time to take a closer look at the commemorative series is now! By 1984, we should have added five "new babies to the family!" Two gold, two 90% silver and one clad issue. Think of the new interest, as well as the many new entrants into this area that is finally coming into its own! Remember, this series is now desired in grades from EF to MS-67+! Such is an excellent sign!

TYPE COINS

Where do we go from here?

By Bruce Amspacher

"Well, I have to go now. I'm due back on planet earth" Woody Allen "ANNIE HALL"

Only sixteen months ago, type coins were the rage. Every time a new issue of "The Coin Dealer Newsletter" appeared, there were so many "plus" signs it looked like a cross between numismatics, mathematics, and "2001". "The coin market has entered warp 4", we would say, amazed at our own cleverness. Rare coins were blue-hot, and there was no end in sight. What happened?

Well, we know what happened, and why. If you don't know what transpired since March 1980, just look in any freshman history text. It's in the index, under "Domino Theory".

Even without rehashing the recent past, it is much easier to understand what is going on today by looking back ten years or more, and then following the chronology of events to the present.

Originally, the role of "The Coin Dealer Newsletter" (hereafter CDN) was to report on the coin market by reading teletype transactions. For years, type coins were not even listed in CDN. After type coins were added, the interest was so great the coverage was extended by grade, then by date in the "Monthly Summary". Since grading (and pricing) was so inconsistent on the teletype circuits, the role of CDN was modified from "reporter on the market" to "reporter and interpreter on the market". To interpret the market correctly, it was necessary to use sources other than the teletype circuit. Reports from bourse activity and auctions were integrated with teletype quotes to create current bid/ask levels. Even then, an "educated guess" was sometimes necessary. After all, an MS-65 1894-O Dime can be absent from the market for months, even years, at a time. Yet, a monthly report on the value of this coin was necessary to keep up with the "market".

Now, the rare coin market's version of "The Twin Paradox" rears its head. As coin prices began their slide, the 1894-O Dime began to "minus" on the Summary. Had an MS-65 1894-O Dime been offered at less than bid? Probably not, but the dated Barber coinage as a whole was bringing depressed prices, and the interpretation was that if other dates brought less, so would this date. Is this interpretation fair, and equally important, is it accurate? I asked a number of dealers this question, and many other questions, while preparing this article. Almost all agreed with John Dannreuther, who said: "The CDN is probably at its most accurate level ever. There are still coins that are overpriced, and even more that are underpriced, but basically prices are steady at this level for accurately graded coins".

Then, there's the case of the 1894-S Half Dollar. While this coin "minused" in the June Summary to $5,000, one sold to a dealer for more than twice that amount in Superior's "Turkus" Sale. There is a logical explanation for this, yet when you present it to some people, they, in the words of Mike Hinkle, "look at you like you're from Mars". The explanation? The date on the coin had very little to do with the price the coin realized at auction. To put it another way, if the coin had been an 1897-P or an 1915-D or whatever, it would still have realized a five figure price, or close to it. David Hall said: "Considering all the factors of strike, color, surfaces, and eye appeal, it was probably the best Barber Half I've ever seen". Leroy Lenhart said: "The Superior Auction proved once again that the wonder coin will always bring the big ticket".

The point is obviously clear. At least to most people. Yet when I gave the above explanation to one person who couldn't understand the price, he looked at me quizzically and said: "But the 1894-S isn't that rare a date, is it?" I might as well have been talking to a tree stump.

Neither an 1894-O Dime nor an 1894-S Half Dollar is, in the strictest sense, a type coin. They are scarce dates within the type, yet they are frequently sold (when sold at all) as type coins; i.e. to be put in a type set either in spite of or because of their rarity. If that seems confusing, let's back up again to ten years ago and see how collecting habits have changed.

In 1971, if you had a Gem BU 1868-S Quarter you also had a problem. Who wanted a Gem BU 1868-S Quarter? Nobody was putting together a BU set of Seated Quarters. So, you took it to a show, and offered it to Julian Leidman, Ed Milas, Ken Goldman, Bill Mitkoff, the Philadelphia Quintet (Riethe, Leach, Holloway, Simons, and Emmer), and a few others. If they weren't at the show, you went home with the coin. If they were there, one of them would usually buy it. After making such a sale (in the $75 range, as I recall) a euphoria overtook me. I immediately bought a Gem BU 1939-D Nickel and had enough money left over for lunch.

Since that time, things have changed. The last Gem BU 1868-S Quarter I saw was priced at $23,500. And it sold. Does this mean that there are lots of collectors today putting together sets of BU Seated Quarters? No. Probably no more than there were ten years ago. What changed is the attitude towards rare coins. People no longer care that no one is putting together that series by date. The fact that the coin is rare, and beautiful, and would be a neat thing to own, is in itself enough to justify the price. The scarce and rare dates are going into collections and type sets along with the "common dates"; in a way, they have all become type coins.

When I was asked to do an article on type coins, the first thought was the "in-depth anlaysis". You know, things like "1873-CC Trade Dollars are never seen in MS-65" or "1886 Dimes usually come with a flat head". The problems with that were 1) it would run 972 pages, and 2) everyone would be asleep by page three.

Instead, I decided to talk to some rare coin dealers who are type coin specialists, and, in most cases, have been for years. These people know a BU coin when they see one, understand the complexities of grade and value in type coins, and do business (and lots of it) in all market conditions.

They are not the people you usually see on the Ten O'clock News when the local TV station does coverage on the coin show that's in town. In fact, I've almost never before seen the dealer the TV station always pick out. The camera pans his case, featuring a 1959 Proof Set (missing the quarter), a one ounce silver bar (priced $30 "net"), and a Lincoln Penny (Lincoln is smoking a pipe). In the voice over, the dealer tells how "me and the wife" have been "on the circuit" for 20 years, or "nigh onto that long". Then, he shows his "lucky" argyle socks and tells everyone how much he loves airline food.

Enough digression. The point is, even though these dealers I talked to aren't TV stars, they are the ones who lay down the money to maintain a nice inventory of type coins. They're the ones whose opinion is most respected by "insiders".

I asked them: What type coins do you feel are most underpriced in relation to CDN? Most overpriced? What type coins have the best growth potential regardless of current levels? What are the problems, if any, with the type coin market today? And, finally, what are your general feelings about type coins---in other words, free-lance a little about what ever is on your mind.

There were some amazing similarities in the answers, particularly regarding underpriced coins. And, some keen insight into the problems of the type coin market. The dealers didn't have only complaints, however. Many also had suggested solutions.

First of all, we'll discuss the underpriced and overpriced coins. A general discussion will be used here, to avoid repetition and save space. The categories are made up from the frequency each series was mentioned, without prompting. In one instance, most dealers designated Barber coins as "ridiculously underpriced", yet one put Barber coins in the "most overpriced" category. Generally, though, the feelings were unanimous and as follows:

Ridiculously underpriced:

1) BU (65) Arrows coinage — No other type coin was mentioned nearly as often as the 1873-74 Arrows Dime. "In the heat of the market, I didn't see even one", said one dealer. "A $10,000+ coin even today", said another. But the supoort was virtually as strong for all 1854-55 Arrows coins, and the 1873-74 Arrows Half Dollar.
2) BU (65) Trade Dollars — "I'm in!" was the enthusiastic consensus on this type. One dealer's buy price on an "all there '65' coin" was over double current MS-65 bid.
3) Proof (65) Walking Liberty Halves, Mercury Dimes, War Nickels — "The market over-reacted by 30% on these issues", said one dealer. "The Half and the Dime alone are worth 20% more than the entire set is bid", said another.
4) BU (65) "Stars Obverse" Dimes — "These coins are not around at $5,000, let alone at $2,800", said one dealer. His feelings were echoed by many others. Another dealer noted, "Legend Obverse Dimes out number Stars Obverse Dimes 100 to one!"
5) BU (65) Bust Material — This series was best summed up by Tom Noe: "A relatively slow coin market shows just how rare the true rarities are. In the past six months, I have not been offered a single Gem BU Bust Quarter at any price, let alone at $7,500. This material is just unavailable".
6) BU (65) Walking Liberty Half Dollars (common dates) — "They're much more underpriced at $65 than they were overpriced at $200", said one dealer.
7) BU (65) Seated Dollars — Those that yelled about this one yelled loud. "You can't even find nice 1859-O and 1860-O Dollars anymore", said one dealer.

Underpriced:

1) BU (65) Copper Coins — With the exception of common Indian Cents at $300, most dealers felt this area was "too cheap". "Full Red Large Cents often trade at $2,500-$3,000 wholesale", said one, "while bid is only $1,700". Other series frequently mentioned were Half Cents, Flying Eagles, 1859 Indians (heavy support here), Two Cent Pieces---nearly anything struck in copper.
2) BU (65) Barber Coins — A near unanimous selection. The comments were many and wide ranging, but basically the thought was this: "If the coin is original, fully struck, fully lustrous, with no major marks and nothing on the cheek (slide marks, especially), I'm a buyer at or above current bid levels".
3) Matte Proof (65) Buffalo Nickels — These coins were included out of confusion more than anything else. "A lot of people expect you to price a Gem Proof 1915 Nickel in the $1,750-$2,000 range", one dealer noted, "and they're skeptical when you explain that bid is for the 1936-37 issues".

4) Inexpensive coins in general — Dave Berg expressed the feelings of most dealers when he said: "While all coins are at a level where they won't get cheaper, the cheap stuff will get better and better---and much faster". Specifically what "cheap stuff", Dave? "The lower and middle priced type coins, proof coins under $1,500, most copper coins. Two Cent Pieces are a bargain".

Rich Hoffman added: "While a real MS-65 Draped Bust Half Dollar would certainly be a great buy at $20,000---or even $25,000---you could starve while waiting for one to show up. It's time to look again at Mercury Dimes, Walking Liberty Halves, Liberty Nickels, Barber coinage, 1859 Indians, and Matte Proof Nickels". When asked if there was anything else he liked at these levels, Rich cited BU and Proof coinage in the MS-60 and MS-63 grades. The list ran to everything except circulated Wheat-Back Lincolns and Ike Dollars.

Comment: Almost all other type coins made someone's "underpriced" list. Liberty Seated coinage, Draped Bust material, and "No Stars" type coins were among the most frequently mentioned.

Don Dugas noted: "Most type coins would never have gone down if more people understood what constitutes an MS-65 coin. A Bust Half, for instance, must have full radiant lustre and a frosty cheek. I've seen less than ten pieces that fully qualify. If proper grading were used, bid would be $6,000---not $3,500".

Robert Emmer said: "Prices have momentarily gotten out of whack. When a Proof Morgan Dollar is bid more than a Choice BU 1873 Arrows Dime, it's time to re-assess just how cheap rare coins have really become".

The comment on Morgan Proofs brings us to the final categories of "overpriced" and "ridiculously overpriced".

Overpriced:

1) BU (65) 1883 No Cent Nickels — Several dealers were quick to note that a superb example was still nearly impossible to locate.
2) Proof (65) Morgan Dollars.
3) BU (65) Type Two Standing Liberty Quarters (both full head and flat head).
4) BU (65) and Proof (65) Three Cent Nickels.

Comment: Except for the "No-Cent" Nickels, most felt that the price correction needed was about 20%.

Ridiculously overpriced:

1) BU (65) 1913 Type One Nickels.

Comment: Amen!

It was in the "What's on your mind?" category that the dealers really began to roll. Their thoughts:

Dave Keeffe — "This is basically an art form, not a science. How do you grade a Rembrandt? True, there is not an exact correlation between a coin and a painting, but, ideally, we need to be able to price a coin for what it is. No amount of subjectivity or objectivity is going to change the fact that the good guys are going to be good guys, and the bad guys are going to be bad guys".

Comment: The thread of "art form" weaved its way into others' thoughts as well. It was put differently, but without dropping a stitch.

John Dannreuther — "In the past six months, grading has become less critical. It's an anomaly. Prices have seemed to drop, but actually there's been no net change. For instance, Barber coinage will bring bid prices on a wholesale level, but this means no slide marks, no significant bag marks, etc. Each coin carries its own merit".

Jim Halperin — "With few exceptions, rare coins are pretty reasonable now. The early stuff has become ridiculously low. Rare coin values will not drop any more from this point. If they do, it will be counteracted by looser grading".

Comment: The terms "looser grading" and "less critical grading" are not synonymous with overgrading. It will take "less coin" to realize bid levels, or it will no longer require an MS-67 coin to bring an "MS-65 price".

Kevin Lipton — "You have to like Gem Type at these levels. Not only will coins not go down anymore, they are in fact trading at over CDN prices in many instances. This is a very positive sign".

Comment: Every dealer had positive comments on the market. There are astonishing parallels in today's market when compared to the pre-boom years of 1972 and 1978. Things seem ready to break loose. So why aren't they?

Charles Anastasio — "There is a tremendous lack of money and this is causing problems. But coins are getting awfully cheap. For the most part, you have to ask 'where are they at this level?' The coins that are 'all there' still go for the full load, but there aren't enough 'all there' coins to go around".

Bob Rose — "People have become afraid to grade coins on their own. They're glad to pay me a 5% commission to buy them a Barber Half out of an auction for $5,500, even though I might be able to sell them a coin out of inventory of the same quality for, say $4,500. There's a sense of security for them in knowing there was an underbidder at 5% less".

Julian Leidman — "Collectors are not that interested in BU type coins right now. They have gone back to traditional coins, like circ Bust Halves. We have entered a two-tier market, and it will remain that way until prices stabilize. Still, a real MS-65 coin will vanish from inventory, even at a 50% premium over bid"

Leroy Lenhart — "With the exception of Silver Dollars, there is a price resistance factor on coins over $2,000. When you get out of the price range of Liberty Nickels, Shield Nickels, and Three-Cent Nickels, people become much more fussy. Big ticket sales are reserved for the wonder coins".

David Hall — "Because of the price resistance factor, the 'common' coins seem to be the best deal. There seems to be a much better chance that a Gem BU Liberty Nickel will quintuple from $800 to $4,000 than there does that a Small Eagle Dollar will go from $40,000 to $200,000. Because of the price range, there is now a reverse of the old thinking that the greatest rarity will show the greatest price appreciation"

Comment: Two common themes are popping up here. 1) There is a price resistance factor on most expensive coins, and 2) Wonder coins sell regardless of the overall condition of the market. Why is there a resistance to the expensive coins? Why can a Picasso self-portrait sell for $5.3 million while Judd 1776 doesn't sell at 15% of that price? It certainly isn't because of rarity (J 1776 is unique) and most certainly not because of beauty. Could the answer be ego? "The reason", says Lyn Knight, "is that you can't hang a rare coin on your wall". What if he's right? A new packaging concept could increase the price of rare coins ten-fold!

David Hall (continued) — "Prices need credibility. Since rare coins don't trade that often on the teletype circuit, it's necessary to get information from an outside source, as the CDN is doing now. The market moved further both ways more than the CDN reflected, but it can take off again overnight. Overnight!"

Maurice Rosen — "People like to respect what is in print. Therefore, we need to address the problem of accurate pricing. The less confusion there is, the more participation there will be. It's hard for people to understand that in a 'hot' market, coins are worth 50%-100% over bid. The more information, the better. This could be accomplished several ways. One, by a quarterly column on auction results. That's where the market is, and it would provide a consistency in observations. Two, by inclusion of an MS-63 column in CDN. I think the MS-63 column is even more important than an MS-60 column. Three, by inclusion of an MS-67 column. Since the ANA recognizes this grade, we need the information concerning value of this grade. All coins don't need to be priced, of course. Four, a 'monthly summary' article on how grading has changed".

Comment: The CDN plans to include an MS-63 column in forthcoming issues, possibly even before this article appears. How did other dealers feel about extended CDN coverage?

Walter Burks — "The MS-63 column is needed for several reasons. The average mint state coin is neither MS-60 nor MS-65. And, since there is such a great disparity of value between MS-60 and MS-65---1000% in some cases---we need to find a better way to evaluate the in-between coins. Instead of having an MS-67 column, however, we could accomplish as much by explaning that a real MS-65 coin is a super coin".

Jim Carr — "The scarce and rare dates are unappreciated for what they are. An 1861 Dime and an 1889 Dime should not be valued the same, yet most dealers consult only the bid price when considering the purchase of either coin. The solution might be a 'super-summary' that appears every six months or so, with a date-by-date bid/ask range for each coin in the Seated and Bust series".

Comment: Over 90% of the dealers favored the MS-63 column, but 67% opposed the MS-67 column. "The MS-67 column might cause too much confusion", one dealer noted.

If you have learned something about type coins and the type coin market from this article, then I consider it a success. But another fact should also be clearly evident from this writing. That fact? That, for the most part, rare coin dealers are extremely bright and conscientious people. Despite this evidence, many newspaper and magazine writers have somehow reached a different conclusion.

"In a bull market, even an idiot can look like a hero", said one magazine writer. In reading these dealers' comments, did you detect any evidence of idiocy? Then, there's Sylvia Porter, author of such breathless bulletins as "even China is in coins", and other noteworthy non sequiturs.

It would be nice to be able to dismiss such "journalism" with an answer like "it should not be distinguished with a comment". But as long as the public is misinformed by inaccurate and irresponsible columns, it hurts us all a great deal. Rare coins have been the number one investment medium for over ten years. Can you imagine what price levels rare coins could attain if they received the good press they deserve? As Maurice Rosen said earlier, "The less confusion there is, the more participation there will be". But what could be more confusing to potential investors than to hear "number one investment medium" in one ear and "coin dealers are crooks" in the other. It only follows that more confusion will lead to less participation. We still need a solution to this one.

On a brighter note, the evidence is in on type coins and the verdict is positive. The dealers are more than ready to do business, and in most cases at current or higher levels. The drawbacks of "tight" money and its side effects of price resistance seem temporary; if the material was truly overpriced the result would be a glut---instead, there is little available. Only higher prices can result from this situation. The other problems seem insignificant, although the "change in grading" will undoubtedly be a formidable hurdle.

Many people fear the addition of an "MS-63" column because it may change the value of their coins. The proposal of a grading change is met with cries of "dealer conspiracy" and worse. But the fact remains that as prices escalate, the two-tier and three-tier market is more and more a reality. The Gem BU Bust Dime that brings $20,000 wholesale when bid reaches $20,000 may have to be nicer than the Gem BU Bust Dime that brought $200 when bid was $200. The coin hasn't changed, but our concept of it may have.

Since this article has been full of quotes from other people, I would like to quote one more person who summed up the grading change pretty well. "Provided that the observation does not involve any significant interference, you do not expect to change the physical world just by looking at it. But the way it appears to you can certainly change".

Which "coin con" (Sylvia Porter's term) said that? Actually, it wasn't a coin dealer at all. And, he wasn't talking about a grading change, although it certainly applies. The man who said that was Albert Einstein.

I would like to thank all the coin dealers who gave their time and expertise to make this article possible. God help me if I forgot anyone. A special thanks to Mike Hinkle, who not only made significant suggestions and comments, but even made a chart of all U.S. type coins with approximate bid prices for the MS-63 and MS-67 grades. I regret that lack of space made it impossible to use this valuable information at this time.

ELEVEN VIEWS of the 1981 A.N.A. CONVENTION ....and of the coming year

Everyone knows that the annual A.N.A. Convention is considered a "bellwether" occasion. And, considering the recent overall climate of the coin market, the action at this year's show was certain to be closely watched by all involved with numismatics. Thus, we decided to ask two general questions of a number of major dealers who were "in the thick" of the convention activity. First, we asked how well they fared—in both selling and buying—in relation to how well they expected to do (not hoped to do). Second, we asked their opinion of what the next twelve months hold for the coin market. We think that our readers will find the following eleven varied opinions interesting, informative and thought provoking.

FRED SWEENEY (Fred Sweeney Rare Coins, Inc.)

I had just returned from the A.N.A. convention when I was asked to give my opinion of the show and of the future market. I was fortunate to buy several nice collections and personally did very well at the show. But, we know that several of the dealers did not do well. In fact, we heard stories of sales from zero for some dealers to other larger dealers who had sales of less than $5,000. On the other end of the scale, there were dealers who sold well over one million dollars worth at the show! However, it was very tough. You had to know what you were doing---you had to know the market---you had to buy things that were selling.

Three Cent Silvers, Seated coinage, Barber coinage, early Walkers and even "type" gold seemed to be fairly weak. Some said it was the worst A.N.A. they had ever attended. Each year the A.N.A. sells more and more tables at that show. This makes the market thinner and thinner. Collectors have more and more dealers to chose from---and dealers have less and less attendance at their table. I don't know the solution, but I don't think that the A.N.A. will ever be like it was a few years ago.

The A.N.A. is usually the barometer for the Fall. If it is such, we can look for a very slow market. If the new law concerning Keogh and IRA plans is passed, it will also have a big impact on the business. As you may know, it is now being attempted to make it illegal for individuals to put hard assets into their investment plans.

I don't look for the market to perk up until the general economy changes to a more favorable position. Right now, with people getting 20% interest on their money, it's difficult to take a risk in another area. I think the long-term will be good; the short-term is sketchy.

MARTIN E. HABER (Numismatic Investments of Florida)

I had expected that there would be greater overall activity at the A.N.A., at all dealer levels. I was greatly surprised at the overall lack of quality material offered for sale. But, Numismatic Investments of Florida had a very successful show since we came to the A.N.A. to buy, and buy we did.

I expect that one year from now (A.N.A. '82) the coin market will be much stronger than it is at present. I support this with the following: A. Reagan's economic policies are potentially highly inflationary---ie. 1.6 trillion dollars for defense spending. B. Interest rates must come down or inflation must go up if we are to avoid going over the edge economically. This must occur within the next 6 to 12 months. C. Coin prices are very favorable at these levels and will continue to attract considerable buying interest. D. Simply because the "big" money is parked in money market funds, does not mean that the "normal" demand for quality coins won't continue to exert upward pressure on prices. Caveat---only the accurately graded MS-65 or better coins will be in demand over the next year. Commercially graded coins are not going to be in demand until the next boom (1984).

JIM HALPERIN (New England Rare Coin Galleries)

I have never seen such a scarcity of choice material as existed at this year's A.N.A. Dealers' inventories, in general, seem to be at a low-point, an interesting contrast to mid-1980 when every dealer seemed to be greatly overstocked. Common sense and historical observation would indicate that we are very near the bottom of a market-price cycle.

It was difficult to sell coins, but not impossible, as long as one was willing to ignore his cost and sell at the current market. (Few dealers were willing to do this, however.) Since we sell based on market rather than cost, New England had a good selling show (within 5% of our goal), but we had an abysmal buying show.

The disruption at the end of the show caused by news of the rider to the tax bill disqualifying collectibles from Keogh and IRA plans subtracted somewhat from business, simply because dealers were busy setting up meetings and calling their friends in Washington. I don't really think it affected many dealers attitudes about prices.

Normally, the A.N.A. is a strong retail show. This particular A.N.A. was almost entirely dealer-to-dealer business. This, in my opinion, was a result of the location rather than the market.

MAURICE ROSEN (Numismatic Counseling, Inc.)

Unlike the 1980 A.N.A., this year's show presented only a limited array of true, premium quality coins. To be sure, the climate was uninspiring for aggressive buying. But, those cash-rich dealers who came to scoop-up bargains of strictly graded MS-65 or better rare coins were disappointed. The material simply wasn't there in any meaningful quantity.

For instance, I intended to buy several rolls of Choice BU Walkers basis the $1,200 bid quote. None were available. I was startled to be unable to quickly and routinely complete customers' want lists on MS-65 semi-key Morgan and Peace dollars. I managed to do it, but only after visiting 14 different dealers who specialize in dollars. Gem type coins were sporadically available, but at premium price levels. Most of the type issues offered were MS-63 or MS-64, but at MS-65 prices. Bargains were occasionally available, as they always are at any show (certainly at a 400+ table show) but only very strong prices captured the true "pearls."

Therefore, a realistic observer must conclude we have an "availability shortage." It is only the presently perceived outlook that prevents this shortage from widely evidencing itself.

Consequently, I conclude that we have either already seen the "bottom" or shortly will. My only concern is the threat of further escalating interest rates this fall. Should this occur, the coin market recovery will be delayed, perhaps to mid-1982. However, any further price weakness should prove unwarranted. It will be caused by weak holders selling. The new owners will acquire material at the onset of the 1982-1986 Bull Market.

BRUCE AMSPACHER

The 1981 A.N.A. convention was, for me at least, better than expected. I set what I thought was a realistic sales goal and exceeded it by 15%. Yet, by 1978-1980 standards, the "realistic goal" was hardly a heady number.

The lack of quality coins available was a disappointment; in silver dollars. for instance, you had to be content buying 1881-S's or buy nothing at all. Several major want lists went totally unfilled.

Still, there were good signs to go with the bad. The tables of the dealers who wanted to do business were usually crowded. The show was much better later in the week as "deals" appeared and were quickly dispersed. At least one dealer had sales well in excess of a million dollars.

Judging from the prices that "wonder coins" realized at that show (an 1837 no stars Half dime traded dealer to dealer at $10,000) there seems to be an eagerness to buy superb quality coins at any level within reason. There is nothing wrong with that aspect of the market, except lack of material.

It is more difficult to predict what the coming 12 months will hold than perhaps any other one year period in history. The coin business must overcome possible airline and postal strikes, negative Keogh/IRA legislation, absurd interest rates, declining gold and silver prices, and other possible setbacks. How influential these things will be on coin prices remains to be seen. But, just as the stock market showed dramatic gains during a recessionary period, so can the coin market enter its greatest boom period despite less than ideal conditions. Rare coin prices seem to have reacted not only to what happened but also to what may happen. The people who look on the summer of '81 the same way they did on the summer of '76---as a tremendous buying opportunity---will be rewarded for their foresight.

STEVE IVY (Ivy Financial Corporation)

The past eighteen months have witnessed considerable consolidation in the rare coin market, brought about primarily by the realignment of investor funds from tangibles into the money market. Lured away by high interest rates and reduced inflationary expectations, these transient investors have never really been part of our market long enough to leave a permanent scar upon their departure. Consequently, the ensuing months should see a firming of prices and increased stability in trading levels. History has shown us that a market oriented around serious collectors and investors benefits from the natural economic forces of increasing demand along with stable to slowly falling supply.

ELEVEN VIEWS

The distortion created by the abnormal demands and constricted supply condition has faded, leaving the core buyers again ready to reap the rewards of prudent numismatic investments. I look for coins priced in the mid four figure range and under to recover more quickly---and provide the short to intermediate term return sought by most investors. The five figure coin, which took the brunt of the latest market correction, will recover at a slower rate and will probably require several years to exceed previous heights.

Briefly, the A.N.A. was exactly as I had expected. The people who worked hard and traded based on current levels did well. The people who sat back and day-dreamed about the Spring of 1980 did poorly.

BOB HARWELL (Hancock & Harwell Rare Coin and Investment Co.)

The biggest problem for most people in the field of investment numismatics, is understanding where the market stands. Is it soft? Is it firm? Who is buying what? Why aren't people buying off quality material? We went to the A.N.A. convention with one thing in mind, to buy as much material that meets our company's standards as possible. We did not spend all the money we had allocated but we were able to buy a large number of very impressive coins, keeping in mind that we were after quality and rarity at reasonable prices.

Some people in the market today do not understand what is a reasonable price for a high quality coin; but one must always recognize that someone always desires the best. We buy the best only when we believe that their overall performance will be equal or better than other potential areas. Rarities have always brought high prices and generally have not performed percentage wise as well as superb quality, but one must give up a little something to possess unique items. In general, our buying was satisfactory and our show sales were concentrated on a strong demand for rare date Dahlonega Gold coins, our speciality.

It is very difficult to see through the economy now, but I would say that, in any event, quality and rarity will out perform the inflation rate. There have been developments recently (the restriction of IRA, Keogh, etc. from effectively buying coins and other tangible assets) that many people believe will harm our industry---but I believe this will be taken out through current lobbying and will not have any significant affect. During the next six to nine months we are interested in buying the coins we feel will be the leaders when the coin market turns around. If it turns sooner, as it may do, we will have a good position. If the collector/investor waits for the bottom to stare him in the face, the coins will be available but at much higher prices. In conclusion, I believe smart money will continue to accumulate quality and rarities and, when we finally are able to evaluate the economy with more certainty, somebody is going to have the coins and other people will have money. We plan to be the one with the coins.

JOHN DANNREUTHER (John Dannreutehr Rare Coins, Inc.)

The A.N.A. in New Orleans was hot---and not just the weather either. Gem (MS-67 and PR-67) quality coins sold extremely well. Many dealers were disappointed because "close to MS-65" and below coins were soft---but what could they expect? With interest rates at 20½%, not much except the money market funds have had pluses lately. There was renewed support at higher levels for "wonder coins" and I think this signals the coming general support for all coins. We could, however, see lower prices before real support is given for the average dealer's stock. My expectations for volume at the A.N.A. were slightly exceeded, though my expectations were certainly not as high as in 1979 or 1980. This year's A.N.A. resembled 1979 in many ways, but the actual quantity of "wonder coins" was much smaller. I think this is a very healthy sign. The market should pick up over the next twelve months---at least in this area. The absence of this type of material forces dealers to buy lower quality (nothing is wrong with average 65 or 63's, etc., at the right price and prices should stabilize at or near current levels. A.N.A. results---positive.

For the next year, the progress of our business will hinge, like the economy, on interest rates. The great Carter-Reagan debate was won by President Reagan when he brought up economic issues. (Does anyone recall the prime rate when the debate took place?) The hoopla at the A.N.A. over the new law (Investment in Collectibles treated as a Distribution) added to HR 4260 (three year tax cut) might be enough to solidify our industry (along with the bullion and diamond people) into a positive approach to coming regulation. Our "hobby" has become big business and the bankers and bond people know this. Coins will always be cyclical (as nearly everything is) and those wise enough to purchase coins in the "valleys" will look down from the "peaks" in a few years and smile.

Although the next year won't be a "1979-80" in the industry, I think there will be stabilization and some moderate growth in many areas---with emphasis on the truly scarce and rare issues in the higher grades.

LEROY LENHART (American Coin Company)

I went to the A.N.A. with the expectation of selling one third to one half of our inventory. Realizing that most of the dealers wanted to turn quick profits, I sold at "cheap" but realistic price levels. I knew that, for a successful show, coins had to be priced right. About half of the people I usually do business with didn't even stop by our table. Early on I decided that when someone did I would make a sale to them. Perhaps this tactic created a little "panic selling"---but I believe that the coins were sold at current market levels. Our company spent in excess of two hundred thousand dollars at the A.N.A.---and 75% of these purchases were resold at the show. We weren't really looking to buy, but, at the same time, if a bargain was there we took advantage of it.

During the coming year, I think that most coins will become a little cheaper. There is a gigantic "cash flow" problem with many dealers. They're not willing to sell old inventory at new current levels---and they don't want more inventory because they aren't selling!

If precious metals make a strong upward move then I think that the rare coin market will be helped. Until then, most dealers have that "wait-and-see" attitude. Thus, the market in general looks rather stale---with the only exception being silver dollars. They are the only coins that I can comfortably pay "ask" (or more) for and sell five minutes later at a profit!

DAVID HALL

What's the big hullabaloo about the A.N.A. convention? Well two things make the A.N.A. different from all other coin shows. First, every dealer of importance is on hand. It is the best dealer and public attended coin show---bar none. Second, the A.N.A. is seven days long---it is the "big daddy" of coin shows! ("second place" isn't even close.) Because of it's scope and importance, many people look at A.N.A. activity as a "barometer" of coming coin market trends. So what did the 1981 A.N.A. convention say about the state of the market? Well, a lot of predictable things happened. For instance, Gem silver dollars were very strong (you weren't all that impressed when you read about a 1921-S bringing $5,000, were you?) And there was the usual amount of moaning and groaning about the sluggish state of the market, as well. But there were some surprises at the show. I mean, didn't you scratch your head a little when you read that a "no stars" S.L. half dime sold for $10,000? As for the dealers, a few had unexpectedly good shows and a few had terrible shows---but most had a "so-so" show. I, personally, had a fabulous show---but that doesn't mean I can, in clear conscience, tell you the coin market is great. However, I can tell you about two very significant things I noticed. One major development at the convention was the "return" of several investment orientated firms to the market. Their renewed buying efforts is a direct result of their clients' renewed interest in higher quality coins. Specifically, I feel this "new" money entering the market will be translated into plus signs in the type coin charts. The major event at the A.N.A. was actually a non-event. Seven days is an incredibly long coin show and it takes some measure of strength to support activity for the entire show. Most dealers expected the show to die during the last few days. The coin market "funeral" was the event that didn't happen. It wasn't great on the final days of the show, but business was being done. This is a dramatic improvement over last year. Where do I think the market's going? In one word---up! And it starts right now. If the A.N.A. told us anything at all, it told us that the current state of the coin market isn't great---but it is OK!

LARRY DEMERER (National Coin Investments, Inc.)

I did not go to this year's A.N.A. convention with the expectation of "having a fabulous" show simply because I didn't expect any quantity of top quality merchandise to surface. And it didn't. New Orleans was an easy place to sell gem coins---but, then, you don't need a coin show for that! In general I feel that the '81 A.N.A. was frustrating and disappointing for most dealers. There were hundreds of sellers with two things in common. They had material which was basically not very desirable---and they were definitely in need of money. The show, however, was also attended by many dealers who were looking for quality---and who had money to spend. Needless to say, these two groups, did not often get together. As far as my own expectations, I did what I had to do!

The big question is "what's in store for the coming year?" A major factor keeping prices down, of course, is that much investment money is going into money certificates due to current high interest rates. (Many investors fail to consider that they will pay 50% to 70% in tax on the interest earned.) When people begin to realize that the slow down of inflation is a temporary dream and that vastly increased military spending, etc. will easily create double digit inflation, the big money will again go into hard assets (gold, silver, coins, collectibles). The money markets will then soften and the prime rate will be lowered. (This is obviously an over-simplification---but you get the picture). The smart buyers should be in the market for top quality right now. Many desirable coins (matte proof gold, for example) can be purchased now for about 25¢ on the dollar from their peak prices. Now is the time to pick up the bargains. It is better to buy six weeks (or even six months) too soon than one day too late!

GOLD SERIES by date

Common date coins in the following listings were computed on a basis of gold at $412.50 per ounce.

Gem MS-65/70 specimens are worth more than the MS-65 prices listed below.

THE 1980/81 GRADING RENAISSANCE

---Or: How to Stop Worrying and Learn to Live with a Dynamic Market

by Maurice Rosen

We are very pleased to present the following timely and, we feel, very important article by Maurice Rosen. The current grading dilemma has certainly touched everyone involved with numismatics on any level--and Mr. Rosen's comments are thought-provoking to say the least. Maurice has been involved as a professional numismatist since 1968--and is the editor and publisher of "The Rosen Numismatic Advisory". His lengthy experience and insight place him in an excellent position to view the overall problem of grading. We wish to express our appreciation for this article!

Would that this article will put the whole grading controversy to rest! It won't, for sure. But, maybe, just maybe, many readers will at least have a better understanding of the situation. Better, that is, to comprehend how people and markets behave, and to appreciate the heightened level of sophistication that our industry now enjoys. It is time at last for us to stop complaining and to open our minds to the changing demands of a dynamic market.

Before we tackle this monster, let's see what grading really is. Grading is a short-hand description (or technical jargon) of the existing state of a coin or other numismatic property. It is meant to identify the condition of an item for classification and transaction purposes. In essence, it fixes the condition of an item so those involved with it can effectively communicate. And you thought grading was difficult! No, it's not the definition that gives us a problem, it's the interpretation and application of a so-called "standard" that does.

Ah, now we get to the real problem: a grading standard. There are two broad approaches to take. Number One says that grading is some kind of evolutionary process. Now, because the market has undergone substantial corrective price action since its peak in February/April 1980, buyers are very fussy and want more for their money. Yesterday's tradeable MS-65 is today's tradeable MS-63. On the other hand, when the market is strong, or, as some dealers affectionately say "in heat", grading "standards" are loosened. The seller can easily get away with selling an "almost MS-65" as a MS-65. This is the popular approach. Number Two says the "Ones" are all wrong! Grading is a fixed standard, a "law of the universe" from which some people deviate, though at greater or lesser levels depending on the state of the market.

Who is right? Sorry, dear reader, it's not a simple choice. I believe it is somewhere in-between both approaches---but a lot closer to the second than the first. An important concept here is to recognize grading as a dynamic force, not as a static, or passive force. Remember our definition of grading: the description of property. Who does the describing? Not a machine that is programmed, but a human. And a human is subject to an infinite number of stimuli that all go into formulating the perception of a description---in our case, a grade.

THE MARKET PREMIUM FACTOR

Did you ever see those old film clips of bathing beauties of the 1920's? How far would a Betty Boop or "flapper girl" get today in a fashion contest? Perceptions change. How about car styles? The food we eat? Or the "hot stocks" of the day? Perceptions change over time. And, so they change in the coin market. It's all human nature. Let's examine market behavior and perceptions through a coin market cycle and then we will relate it to grading and pricing attitudes.

At the peak of the 1976/1980 bull market, many true gem quality type coins fetched dealer-to-dealer prices some 50%-100% over Coin Dealer Newsletter (CDN) quotes. Thus, the real market, as reflected by bourse floor and auction room transactions, was at a significant premium to the CDN. Sellers, believing that next week's CDN would show higher prices, wanted more than the current quote as inducement to part with their coins. Buyers, believing that the price upswing would soon justify their purchase price, were eager to acquire product for fear of not buying coins at all. Call this the price of a ticket for admission on the bandwagon. As the soft market unfolded after March, 1980, this 50%-100% premium situation lessened. That is, the "Market Premium Factor" deteriorated from its previous lofty levels. The level of excitement diminished. There was less "forward pricing." Market expectations changed. Interestingly, this process, or cycle may have reached its trough at this year's A.N.A. Convention.

Thus, the "real market" unfolded like this. I'll use the U.S. Trade Dollar in true Proof state as an example. In April, 1979, when the market was first getting hot, the CDN bid/ask for a "PR-65" was $1600/$1750. However, and this is critical, a "true" or "technical," PR-65 could, by a competent dealer, only be realistically obtained at about $2200. Moreover, the true grade of the Trade Dollar realistically available basis the then published $1600 bid quote was a PR-63 or PR-64. Because it was then a seller's market, and because there was a widely encouraging attitude on the part of market participants, you had to "pay up" to get a true gem coin. The "Market Premuim Factor" (MPF) for our subject coin was 37% ($2200 ÷ $1600, less 100%). We move ahead about a year to the "peak of the heat," February/April 1980. We see that the "PR-65" Trade Dollar has a bid/ask quote of $10,000/$11,000. However, true PR-65's were bringing about double bid. The MPF was now 100%! In fact, one was bought by a dealer at an April auction for $23,000. Importantly, the true grade of the proof Trade Dollar you were likely to get basis the $10,000/$11,000 quote was PR-63. In retrospect, this proved to be the top of the market. The frantic buying in the coin market during February/April 1980 proved similar to behavior at the tops of other markets, be they stocks, locking gas caps, or hoola hoops.

Where are we now? The "PR-65" Trade Dollar quote at the 1981 A.N.A. was $5750/$6350. Moreover, in the midst of a generally perceived poor market environment, a competent dealer could, though with some effort, buy a true PR-65 within the CDN quote, let's say at $6000. This represents a MPF of virtually 0%. Furthermore, the former $10,000 "real PR-63" coin could now be realistically obtained at, perhaps, $2500. There are two critical conclusions to be drawn from this review of the 1979/1981 period of a climbing, peaking, and subsequent bottoming market.

1. PRICES. Coin prices slumped more after the February/April 1980 peak than a casual analysis of the CDN would indicate. Although the quote declined 42½% ($5750 vs. $10,000), the actual coin available when the $10,000 quote was current is now valued at about $2500. This represents a 75% drop. Additionally, a "real PR-65" declined from the $20,000 area to the $6000 area, a drop of 70%.

Extending this thinking further back in time than covered above correctly concludes that prices have not risen as greatly as one would think. The 2¢ piece you would have gotten in 1971 basis the $18.50/$20 "Choice BU" CDN quote is not the same coin tradeable now basis the $1285/$1425 quote. You might have had to pay $37 in 1971 to get today's $1285 coin. Not a bad increase of 35 to 1, but not the 70 to 1 increase suggested by the fancy charts often published by firms specializing in coin investments.

2. GRADING. The market's perception of what constitutes a certain grade changes and is generally related to the market's level of optimism/pessimism. If participants are wildly enthusiastic, the perception of what is a "65" is far different than when participants wouldn't go to an A.N.A. even if it were a couple of blocks from their homes! In the first case many sellers can get away selling "less coin" then in the second case. Consequently, it takes "more coin" today to justify a "65" rating than it did when the market was "in heat."

But has the grading standard changed? Is the standard different now than the standard that prevailed during February/April 1980? No. Repeat, no! A competent and honest professional will grade the same way today as he did in early 1980. He may have been grading this way for many years. The standard did not change; the market's perception of grading as it relates to pricing has changed. And it will probably continue to change. Thus, although we do have a somewhat fixed standard, the behavior and perception and attitude of the market is dynamic. Consequently, it behooves the investor to properly gauge the market's temperment so he can effectively make intelligent transactions.

How can this be done? I suggest by correct usage of the "Market Premium Factor". As the MPF expands, it is telling you that the market is becoming more bullish, developing a greater positive tone. Buyers are more willing to reach for a coin. Sellers are more unwilling to give their coins away. On the other hand, when the MPF contracts or deteriorates, it is telling you that the market is becoming weaker. Prices need not necessarily be dropping. They could, in fact, still be increasing. But the rate of increase will be lessening.

I created and have used the MPF since 1976. Thus, it is not (yet) a time-tested rule or law. But, it is at least one of several effective tools I use to gauge the state of the market. I don't expect it to work well identifying every little "wiggle" of the market. However, I do expect it to work satisfactorily at the important terminal points of a major cycle. Whether "PR-65" Trade Dollars will peak again at a MPF of 100% or not, I don't know. But, they sure are a more attractive buy at a 0% MPF than at a 100% MPF!

PIN-POINT GRADING: WHY NOT SEEK PRECISION?

During the last few years, we've read articles from noted numismatists saying, "No one can be so precise as to distinguish a MS-63 from a MS-64, etc., and certainly not on a consistent basis." Well, maybe those writers can't, but I know many numismatists who can. And, with satisfactory consistency, too. Yet, these commentators say you can't be precise in a field marked by subjective interpretation.

Admittedly, it's relatively easy to distinguish a MS-60 from a MS-65. There's certainly enough difference here for any reasonably competent grader to identify. I'm pleased that the A.N.A. has recently sanctioned the "63" and "67" grades. They recognize that these "in-between" grades are necessary. But, we need to go further still. Surely, you must admit that you've seen coins better than "63" but not quite "65." One of the reasons for the addition of the "63" and "67" grades was a recognition of the great increase over the years in dollar difference between neighboring grades. A "60" might be valued at $100, while a "65" is valued at $1000. Now, the acceptance of a "63" grade can more properly justify, say, a $400 coin price, whereas before it seemed as though $400 was an arbitrary price plucked out of the air.

Yet, what about a coin superior to a $100 MS-60 but not quite a $400 MS-63? Can we expect it to be lumped together with other MS 60 $100 coins? Obviously not. It deserves a higher price than $100. The market recognizes this fact. Dealers quote and transact these coins in-between $100 and $400. Let's forget their intentions here. I'm not concerned that some of them think they can get away calling their "$200 better than MS-60 coin" a $400 MS 63

Updated Prices for MS-67 TYPE COINS and SILVER DOLLARS

On two previous occasions (October, 1978 and March, 1980) we published BID RANGES for MS-67 type coins. And now that the type coin market has "levelled" (after many months of adjustments from the record highs reached during the Spring of 1980), it seems appropriate to once again report on the current prices for specimens of this ultimate quality. While these "adjustments" were taking place, it was virtually impossible to arrive at price levels for MS-67 coins---since there was little agreement on (or support for) the MS-65 prices. Now, however, bid/ask ranges for this grade have basically ceased their slide from record levels---and, in several instances, have begun to register cautious advances. So, we again take a look at current bid ranges for superb MS-67 material---and, this time around, we are also including listings for all of the Morgan and Peace dollars in this desirable condition!

A quick comparison between this and the above mentioned previous two charts will reveal that today's premium for MS-67 over MS-65 type coins is considerably lower than it was on either of the earlier occasions. In October of '78, prices for MS-65 coins were very reasonable---and astute dealers and investors knew it. Noting this fact, knowledgeable buyers at the time were quite willing to pay "over the top" for pieces of even finer quality. In March of '80, the bull market was in full swing---and premiums for MS-67's reflected the "hotness" of overall activity at that time. Currently, the market is in a state of consolidation---and the premium for top quality coins is definitely more conservative.

By the way, there may well be less disagreement among dealers and collectors as to what constitutes the true MS-67 coin than for any of the other shadings of uncirculated (MS-60, MS-63, MS-65). The seldom encountered piece which falls into this category will be FULLY STRUCK---it will be virtually mark or abrasion free (and any marks will be very insignificant)---the coin will exhibit FULL ORIGINAL LUSTER (either brilliant or with attractive natural toning). In short, the MS-67 coin is EXCEPTIONAL. Any one involved with numismatics for even a relatively short while will know a "wonder coin" when he sees one! PLEASE NOTE that the prices preceded by an asterik (*) and followed by a "plus" are those for coins which are very rare in MS-67 condition---or may not actually exist at all! Thus, these particular prices more or less reflect the "educted guesses" of a number of respected numismatists.

First, the eighteen gold issues as they regularly appear on page one of the weekly CDN:

$1 - Type One	$ 6,000 - $7,000
$1 - Type Two	18,500 - 23,000
$1 - Type Three	4,500 - 5,500

$20 Liberty - Type Three	2,250 - 2,750
$20 St. Gaudens	1,600 - 1,900

Now, the copper, nickel and silver BU type coins in the order that they appear on the familiar page four weekly charts. Don't forget, the following are bid ranges (not bid/ask prices). Coins in this category are far too scarce to carry specific price tags---and, at least to some extent, each piece which can accurately be graded as MS-67 speaks for itself.

And last we will take a look at current bid ranges for strictly MS-67 Morgan and Peace dollars. At the risk of being repetitious, it might again be stressed that the following prices are for truly exceptional examples of the various dates. It should be added that these bid ranges---along with those that in the above charts---are compilations from a number of sources. These include actual recent transactions, prices realized at auction, and in-put from quite a number of dealers who regularly seek specimens of this quality. However, the occasional "runaway" price which occurs at auction from time to time are not included---since these do not really apply to the dealer-to-dealer levels which we are listing below.

HALF CENTS

analysis

By Jack H. Beymer

First, I wish to thank Del Bland, Walter Breen, Roger Cohen and all the other fellow half cent collectors who have shared their information about this series with me.

Many of you may not be familiar with die variety collecting except for the few outstanding examples listed in most of the standard reference books. The current standard half cent variety reference book is "American Half Cents" by Roger Cohen---issued in 1971. Roger is currently in the process of reprinting his book with more complete information on regular issues, an added section on proof half cents, and better plates illustrating the known varieties.

Walter is now reviving his earlier unpublished work on half cents. He expects to publish a half cent book with updated condition census information sometime during the next twelve months. Obviously, this double exposure of two texts will serve to educate those collectors unfamiliar with this series---and further enlighten those already involved in collecting half cents.

The proof half cent information contained in this article is given in much greater detail in Walter Breen's book "Encyclopedia of United States and Colonial Proof Coins, 1722-1977." This book should be one of your standard references; it is a classic work.

In this article I will estimate the number of coins extant by date, although, because of melting, this number is only a guess. As with the Large Cent Analysis in the April and May Monthly Summary issues, the number of coins under the "Mint State Specimens" column will include half cents that grade AU-55 and higher in the condition census information by Early American Coppers, Inc. And again, although coins that grade EF-45 and AU-50 may be called uncirculated by many purveyors of coins, they will be excluded from this mint state census.

The basal value listed will show an approximate value relationship to other dates of the same type. However, in order to describe most accurately the value differences that exist in higher grades of the Draped Bust half cent series, I will add a second column---"Extremely Fine Basal Value". When you ascertain the "The Coin Dealer Newsletter" bid value for a certain grade Draped Bust half cent, multiply that value times the basal value to find the value of the coin you have. Example: 1807 half cent basal value in Extremely Fine is 1.45. Multiply the value of the commonest date of the series (1804 or 1806) times 1.45. In this instance, Extremely Fine bid is $115.00 x 1.45 = $166.75. Of course, this is only an approximate value, but it will serve as a general guide to individual date values.

LIBERTY CAP, HEAD FACING LEFT, LETTERED EDGE

	Reported Mintage	Number Extant	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Basal Value
1793	35,334	1,000-1,500	15-20	$45,000+	1.0

Four die varieties of about equal rarity---none of any importance to the type collector. Popular as the first year of issue. In great demand in middle to higher grades when clean and problem-free.

LIBERTY CAP, HEAD FACING RIGHT, LETTERED EDGE

1794	81,600	2,500-3,500	12-18	$22,500+	1.15

Nine die varieties and six sub-varieties with large and small edge letter variations. Very scarce in Extremely Fine and better. True EF (not commercial EF) coins are worth nearly triple bid, though most offered as EF are not. Most coins found are a dark shade.

1795	25,600	750-1,250	5-10	$20,000+	1.2

Two varieties. The "punctuated date" is worth a 10% premium. These lettered edge coins are thicker than the plain edge coins that follow and seem to be made from better planchets. Some exhibit proof-like surfaces. Rare and beautiful are words to describe this type!

LIBERTY CAP, HEAD FACING RIGHT, PLAIN EDGE

1795	109,000	2,500-3,750	10-20	$16,000+	1.0

Seven varieties, including planchet thickness variations. No pole variety is common; "punctuated date" worth a 10% premium. Many of this series overstruck on rolled out Talbot Allum & Lee tokens and spoiled cents.

1796 With Pole	5,090	75-100	5-8	$50,000+	15.0

One of the rare ones! With 40 coins documented (and quite a few others underground) there seems to be more mint state coins than one would expect. BEWARE of electrotype copies, altered dates, and well circulated 1795 pieces with worn dates being offered as 1796 half cents.

1796 No Pole	1,390	18-25	2-3	Spec.	25.0

Super-rare! Its value in any grade is speculative. Seldom offered for sale publicly. Even a rumor of one initiates collector frenzy---viewing one produces a catatonic state. (Owning one, sudden death?---well maybe not that extreme, perhaps just heavy breathing!)

1797	119,215	2,500-3,750	7-15	$16,000+	1.0

Five exciting varieties. The "1 above the first 1" in the date is common; the "centered head" and the "low head" command a 30% premium. The tough ones: the "lettered edge" type with a 400% premium; the "gripped edge" type (with about ten coins known) remains speculative in value. An interesting year.

This data for the Liberty Cap series will probably cause a bit of the truth to emerge; true mint state pieces are rare. Extremely Fine and About Uncirculated coins are difficult to obtain. This series seems to have been well circulated and few escaped the toll of circulating.

DRAPED BUST

Now we have entered the era of interrupted supply and use of half cents. Small hoards from 1800, 1804, and 1806 provide us today with plenty of mint state specimens---and possibly some insight concerning the lack of popularity and use of this coin. The fact that there are quite a few high grade circulated coins extant may indicate that this series from 1800 to 1808 may not have circulated as heavily as might normally expected.

	Reported Mintage	Number Extant	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Basal Value	EF Basal Value
1800	211,530	2,500-3,500	100-150	$ 800	1.28	1.15

One variety. At least two hoards provide plenty of mint state pieces, many of them red and spotted. Scarcer in the middle to higher grades of circulation.

1802/0	14,366	350-550	0	--	8.5	--

Two varieties. The reverse of 1800 variety (with 15 coins known) is of speculative value. The only year in the half cent series without a mint state specimen known: one AU, no EF, 6-10 VF---and the rest in varying states of ugliness. "Ugliness" is the word---all coins are struck on rolled out spoiled cents and seldom appear smooth or medium brown. An aggravating year for the fussy collector.

HALF CENTS (Continued from Page One)

	Reported Mintage	Number Extant	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Basal Value	EF Basal Value
1803	97,900	4,500-6,000	20-35	$3,000	1.13	1.45

Four varieties. Mintage figures are incorrect; most likely struck more than one year---and on decent copper, too. Common in low grade, quite scarce in EF, rare in Unc.---a normal distribution for a coin released and used in the year of issue.

1804	1,055,312	10,000-15,000	90-150	$625	1.0	1.0

Twelve varieties. "Plain 4 with stems" worth a 20% premium. Enough mint state coins to suggest a small hoard, though not many full red ones.

1805	814,414	6,000-8,000	15-30	$3,500	1.05	1.2

Four varieties. "Small 5 with stems" is 5X to 10X common value, depending on grade. Rare date in uncirculated.

1806	356,000	8,000-10,000	200-300	$625	1.0	1.0

Four varieties. "Small 6 with stems" is about 3X common value. A hoard provides red and spotty pieces.

1807	476,000	6,000-8,000	20-40	$2,500	1.05	1.45

One variety. Rare in true Unc.; AU coins abound. Convex obverse, normal reverse. The central portion of Liberty's head received early wear and caused many coins to have mint state appearing reverse and obverse fields, while the hair appears quite worn.

1808	400,000	6,000-8,000	8-12	$4,000	1.05	1.65

Three varieties. 1808/7 commands 3X to 7X common price, depending on the grade. Excluding 1802, the rare date in mint state (I'll even pay to "fondle" one!)

CLASSIC HEAD

	Reported Mintage	Number Extant	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Basal Value
1809	1,154,572	12,000-20,000	125-200	$400	1.1

Six varieties. 1809/6 common; "circle in O" worth 20% more than common. Many mint state pieces---but rare in full red. I have been looking for a red 1809 for my own collection for years and, so far, have settled for a part red one---until the "real thing" comes along!

1810	215,000	1,000-2,000	20-40	$1,000	1.35

One variety. Scarce in all grades; rare in uncirculated. Red uncirculated might exist---but doubtful.

1811	63,140	700-1,100	6-10	$15,000	4.0+

Two varieties, plus six restrikes made on the outside. Scarce in low grades, rare in EF or better. Most 1811 coins are dark; seldom seen light brown. A "melt" of half cents from 1809, 1810, and 1811 reduces the number available from these years.

1825	63,000	2,500-3,500	25-45	$700	1.25

Two varieties. Probably more than 63,000 coins issued. Still, very difficult to obtain in mint state.

1826	234,000	4,500-6,000	35-65	$600	1.2

Two varieties. Tough in mint state; rare in full red uncirculated.

1828	606,000	15,000-22,000	1000+	$280	1.0

Three varieties. "Twelve star" variety valued at 20% above common. A hoard of about 1000 mint state coins has provided us with many red uncirculated specimens

1829	487,000	12,000-18,000	60-100	$500	1.0

One variety. Not too scarce in mint state, though very difficult to obtain in full red.

From here on we will eliminate the "Number Extant" column and insert proof coinage information. (Proofs are known for the years 1825 through 1829; they range in number for each year from unique to three or four pieces known.) Values listed for the following proof coins are for Proof-60 condition.

	Reported Mintage	Mint State Specimens	MS-60 Value	Proof Extant	Proof Value	Basal Value
1831	2,200	2-3	Spec.	12-15	$6,000	--

The "key" Classic Head half cent---with only 11 to 15 pieces known from the regular issue die, plus 12 to 15 proof coins known. The collector has very few choices available. Beware of electrotype copies or altered 1834 half cents.

1832	154,000	75-100	$425	12-18	$4,500	1.0

Three varieties. Scarce in mint state; rare in red uncirculated.

1833	120,000	250-350	$325	30-50	$3,500	1.0

One variety. Apparently many mint state coins have been provided by a hoard. Available in reddish unc., though difficult in full red unc. Many proof-like business strikes are sold as proofs, so obtain verification from someone who is knowledgeable.

1834	141,000	100-150	$350	18-25	$4,500	1.0

One variety. Scarce only in red uncirculated.

1835	398,000	1500+	$280	15-20	$4,500	1.0

Two varieties. The commonest date Classic Head half cent in all grades. A large hoard has furnished us with many mint state coins, including many full red uncirculated examples.

1836	--	--	-	30-40	$6,000	-

Tradionally sells for more than other proofs of this era.

1840 to 1848		--	-	35-50	$3,500	-

It is possible that more than fifty pieces of each of these dates were produced, though in groups of 10-15 pieces at a time.

1849 Small date	-	--	--	25-30	$4,250	--

Though the 1849 small date belongs with the preceding group, it appears on the market less often.

1849 Large date	39,864	75-100	$375	3-5	Spec.	1.1

Scarce in mint state; rare in red uncirculated.

1850	39,812	65-90	$400	12-15	$4,500	1.05

Scarce in mint state; rare in red uncirculated.

1851	147,672	100-150	$300	8-12	$5,000	1.0

Difficult to acquire in full red uncirculated condition.

1852	--	--	--	55-75	$3,500	-
1853	129,694	85-125	$300	--	--	--

Rare in red uncirculated, though probably slightly more common than 1849 and 1850.

1854	55,358	1000+	$275	30-40	$3,500	1.0

As the result of a large hoard, many uncirculated are available from reddish-brown to full red. Asmall number of copper-nickel proofs also exist.

1855	56,500	1000+	$275	35-45	$3,500	1.00

More red uncirculated coins available from this date because of a large hoard.

1856	40,430	250-350	$275	30-40	$3,500	1.05

Many more copper-nickel proofs were also produced, adding another 50 to 70 more proofs to the copper proofs listed above.

1857	35,180	300-400	$275	40-50	$3,500	1.3

Common in mint state; difficult to find in worn condition. Again, a hoard coin.

GOLD SERIES by date

Common date coins in the following listings were computed on a basis of gold at $423.50 per ounce.

GOLD TYPE COINS

Today's Prices and Tomorrow's Potential

by Bruce Amspacher

Being a coin dealer is like reading "The World According to Garp": although you frequently can't believe what's happening, there's no way that you're going to stop doing it.

We have entered the "can't believe" stage once again. We can't believe, for instance, that the President who promised "less government intervention" into our lives signed a tax bill with a rider that not only intervened into our lives, it put hundreds of people in the coin business out of work. We can't believe local and state holding laws that have been passed restricting rare coin dealers and bullion dealers from conducting business in a normal fashion although these holding laws are clearly a violation of the "equal protection of the laws" clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. We can't believe the proposal presented by Mr. Shannon that would end capital gains on collectibles.

We can't believe supply-side economics, either. My history book says the last time supply-side economics was hot was from 1928 to 1932; we all know what a dynamite economy we had during those years.

In all fairness, there is a chance that Reaganomics will work. There is also a chance that Leroy Lenhart and Don Willis will turn off the Super Bowl to debate the finer points of Albert Camus' "The Myth of Sisyphus".

Finally, we can't believe how cheap rare coins have become. The investment potential appears, once again, to be excellent. And, once again, the economic conditions that favor the coin market are appearing: falling interest rates, growing money supply, attractive prices, etc. Yet, so far, little that is positive has happened.

With so many things right, and so many things wrong, there is still an optimistic edge to the thoughts of most dealers. Note that I said most dealers. When I circulated a questionnaire among rare coin dealers about gold type coins and the market in general, the reactions ranged from very good to very bad; from unbridled enthusiasm to spiritual dyspepsia.

The dealers I questioned are among the most expert of the industry in the field of gold type coins. The questions were similar to the ones I asked about silver type coins in July: What are your feelings about MS 65 or better U.S. Gold Type Coins? Proof 65 or better Type Coins? Gold Commemoratives? Are there any Gold Type Coins that you feel are great sleepers? There were other questions as well, and these will be covered in the "General Discussion" segment later in this article.

I also asked the dealers to rate the five most overpriced gold type coins in MS 65 and the five most underpriced gold type coins in MS 65. Because of differences of opinion (and perhaps differences in interpretation of what constitutes an MS 65 coin) there were some definitive results and some odd results. For instance, Type III $20 Liberties were voted the seventh most overpriced coin and the seventh most underpriced coin!

The dealers were allowed to list anything they wanted to as a Gold Type Coin; most stuck to the coins listed on the front page of the weekly CDN; others branched out into more diverse areas. Since not all dealers answered this part, or only partially answered it, the numbers add up to less than 100% of the possible total.

If a coin was listed number one as most overpriced or underpriced, it was given ten points and one first place vote. Second place earned eight points, third six points, fourth four points, and fifth two points. Thus, when the $5 Liberty/No Motto is listed as 98 (4), this means it received 98 total points and four first place votes. Simple, right? I know, it sounds like we're judging a beauty contest---and perhaps we are.

Anyway, here are the quite interesting results:

MOST UNDERPRICED GOLD TYPE COIN—MS 65

1)	$5 Liberty/No Motto — 98 (4)	10)	$3 Gold — 14
2)	$10 Liberty/No Motto — 80 (5)		$1 Gold/Type II — 14
3)	$5 Indian — 66 (3)	12)	$20 Saint Gaudens — 12
4)	$5 Classic — 50 (2)	13)	Pan-Pac $50 Octagonal — 10 (1)
5)	$20 Liberty/Type II — 46 (1)	14)	$2½ Indian — 8
6)	$2½ Classic — 24	15)	$2½ Liberty — 6
7)	$20 Liberty/Type III — 22 (1)	16)	$5 Liberty/With Motto — 4
8)	$20 Liberty/Type I — 20		$10 Liberty/With Motto — 4
9)	$10 Indian — 18

MOST OVERPRICED GOLD TYPE COIN—MS 65

1)	$1 Gold/Type III — 104 (8)		$5 Indian — 12
2)	$10 Indian — 68 (1)	11)	$1 Gold/Type I — 10
3)	$2½ Liberty — 64 (1)		$20 High Relief — 10 (1)
4)	$20 Saint Gaudens — 48	13)	$3 Gold — 6
5)	$2½ Indian — 44 (3)		$5 Classic — 6
6)	$20 Liberty/With Motto — 40 (1)	15)	$20 Liberty/Type I — 4
7)	$20 Liberty/Type III — 34 (2)		$20 Liberty/Type II — 4
	$5 Liberty/With Motto — 34 (1)	17)	$2½ Classic — 2
9)	$1 Gold/Type II — 12		Racketeer Nickel — 2

Comment: Several dealers who included the $10 Indian in the "Most Overpriced" category noted that they listed it there because of the dates 1926 and 1932; exclude those dates and they felt differently. Also, many dealers said that if the list had been for MS 67 coins, their choices would have differed greatly.

Why did the Type III Gold Dollar fare so poorly? Despite the low mintages of most dates, this type was hoarded in large quantities. It is rumored that the DuPont Estate had original rolls of the dates from 1879-1889. Noted numismatist turned clothing magnate Thomas W. "I only want to look at your wonder coins" Noe recently purchased an estate with 40 Gem BU Type III Gold Dollars. While they're not flooding the market, if there is one coin that is available at today's levels, it's the Type III Gold Dollar.

The dealers had a lot to say about Gold Type Coins besides making lists. While the comments below were originally in reply to a direct question, I have taken license and made their answers into a general discussion format. As with the Silver Type Coin article, this is done to save space. There's 20 pages of information here, and only two pages to squeeze it into.

The dealer's thoughts:

Marc Emory — "Gold type coins get much less attention than they deserve when compared to silver type coins. Some of the truly great rarities, such as a 1796 or 1808 Quarter Eagle, would probably be underpriced no matter what the price tag was.

"There are incredible sleepers in the $5 Liberty and $10 Liberty series---a frightening number in the post 1880 dates alone---but because so few people collect these series few people appreciate them.

"Virtually every U.S. gold coin coming out of Europe today is either circulated or far short of Gem quality. The only source of quality coins is from the old estates."

Comment: It is Marc's job to go through European gold hoards and bullion shipments prior to their delivery to the U.S. His observations are based on experience.

There used to be a fear (or hope, depending on who you are) that a bag of rare date twenties (or other denomination) might pop up at any time in a European bank hoard. Today, there is evidence that no quantities of anything significant are left to be uncovered.

Mike Hinkle — "Gold type coins represent the essence of modern numismatics. The great collections formed during the 20th century (Bass, Bareford, Murrell, Carter and Lilly) all had rare date and type U.S. gold as their nucleus. A true MS 65 or better gold type coin will excite even the most experienced numismatist."

Fred Weinberg — "True MS 65 gold coins are considerably rarer than most silver type coins. Because of the high face value, fewer pieces were saved, and because they were released in bags many BU coins show bag marks and friction due to the soft metal. Gem BU gold is no more common today than it was at the much higher levels of two years ago. I consider them excellent numismatic items."

GOLD TYPE COINS (Continued from Page One)

Dennis Steinmetz — "Gem gold is probably the most popular area of quality numismatic investment. Gold will always have that special appeal. Gold type coins have excellent potential. Even in this softer market virtually no material is available. Strict MS 65 is the key to the rarity and therefore the key to the potential."

Comment: No statement about gold type coins is more important than the one made by Mr. Steinmetz: "Strict MS 65 is the key to rarity and potential."

Gold Commemoratives received lots of comment. The question whether gold commems are actually type coins is academic; the dealers wanted to talk about them, so here are their thoughts:

Dale Williams — "I think U.S. gold commemoratives at the current levels are extremely underrated and underpriced. At the current MS 65 gold bid prices, this is the only area I would be a strong buyer. I see this series doubling in the next three years."

Jeff Garrett — "MS 65 gold commems are a great buy! They really are scarce in top condition, and are one of the best short term or long term investments around."

Tom Caldwell — "Gold commems are the best buy in U.S. gold coins today. In any market, whether it be weak, strong, or somewhere in between, commem gold is never available in quantity in MS 65. Try and locate MS 65 Lewis & Clarks or Louisiana Purchase Jeffersons at any major coin show and you will probably not have any luck. In true MS 65 even the supposedly common Sesqui $2½ is not readily available."

Rick DeFrances — "True MS 65 gold commemoratives seem very cheap relative to their availability. I especially like the Lewis & Clarks and the Louisiana Purchase McKinley. I feel that any real demand for these would drive the prices up drastically. I would not try to put five Gem sets together even at 50% over current levels."

Jay Miller — "Gold commems are a great area. What's rarer---a Gem High Relief or a Gem 1905 Lewis & Clark? Half the set is really tough in full blown Gem---and how long has it been since you've handled a Sesqui $2½ with no rub on the leg?"

Comment: Many other dealers had high praise for the challenge and potential of this series, but a few dissenting voices were heard, also. One dealer labeled the series as "unexciting", another as "promoted over and over again", and another said the series was "overpriced. All are available." Still, the overall consensus was a resounding "yes" on the question of future potential for the gold commemoratives.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Proof gold coins also received lots of comment. There was an upbeat, if somewhat mixed, feeling about this area, and some dealers were downright philosophical.

Gordon Wrubel — "I've always favored business strikes in type coins of any metal, but especially so with gold. I think MS 65 proof gold coins are rare and beautiful but rather sterile. Since they were struck for collectors and not intended for circulation, they are commonly found in MS 65 despite low mintages. There is a certain thrill associated with the acquisition of an MS 65 business strike, and because of price considerations, more people can take part in the chase."

John Struzan — "I like them. Prices are extremely favorable if you buy them at market. Matte $5 Indians at $8,000 or $9,000 are a deal! So are proof $10's at $12,000 to $14,000."

Bruce Kutcher — "Proof gold is even rarer than the uncirculated counterparts. A much better value than the silver proofs, much more rare and much less promotable. MS 65 gold must be held for a long term investment, but if the investor is patient enough, he could get famous."

Ron Howard — "High quality proof gold coins possess charisma perhaps unmatched by any other category of U.S. coins. Such a high percentage of the original proof mintage was spent, cleaned, mishandled, or melted that very few of 65 quality exist today. Many survivors of that quality are impounded in advanced collections at any point in time. Drastic price fluctuations make proof gold unsuitable for the fainthearted investor."

Robert Harwell — "Proof gold is one of the best areas to put into large portfolios if the investor is interested in above average return but is willing to take a little risk. Keep in mind, this area is more volatile than others."

Comment The dealers were quick to note the volatility of proof gold coins, but their appreciation for them at current prices was nearly unanimous.

The next two dealers were brief, but certainly to the point:

Ken Goldman — "Choice pieces of proof gold are good property. Rarer dates are great!"

Marty Haber — "Proof gold is an excellent buy at current levels. However, early type coins are a much better investment."

Comment Mr. Goldman and Mr. Haber were in agreement with Marc Haber's viewpoint on early type gold. "Worth almost any price for real 65", Goldman said. "They are the creme de la creme in 65 or better condition", Haber added.

Neil Berman — "Early 65 Type was, is, and always will be hard to find and generally vastly underpriced compared to its rarity."

* * * * * * * * * * *

I also asked the dealers to put together an imaginary $50,000 investment package of gold type coins. The only ground rules were that the coins must be put away for five years and the dealers were to assume that anything they chose would be available at current levels.

While all the answers were enlightening, and I wish there was space to list all of them, I've picked the two I thought were the most interesting.

Bob LeBlanc — "For myself I would put all the eggs in one basket of $5 Indians at bid.

"For a client, I would diversify him thusly:

5	$ 5 Indians	@	$ 3,100	= $15,500
2	$20 Liberties Type II	@	$ 3,450	= $ 6,900
5	$20 Liberties Type III	@	$ 1,800	= $ 9,000
5	$20 Saint Gaudens	@	$ 1,300	= $ 6,500
3	$2½ Indians	@	$ 2,200	= $ 6,600
1	$ 1 Gold Type I	@	$ 5,000	= $ 5,000
				$49,500

"The supply of properly graded (and I don't mean ANACS) MS 65 and better gold type is truly short, the demand is strong, thus the potential is tremendous for appreciation in value. Has anyone ever said that before?"

Comment: Please note that Mr. LeBlanc's investment package came up $500 short of $50,000. The entire coin dealer fraternity joins me in hoping that Bob will use that $500 to buy himself a new fishing hat.

Greg Holloway — "Real MS 65 $5 Indians with absolutely no rub on the cheek (bid $3,100) are ridiculous rips. Contrast that with the dramatically more common $5 Liberties which are currently bid at $2,500. Throughout the past five years, $5 Indians have been recognized as being of far greater rarity than their earlier counterparts. This has been reflected by great price disparities between the two (bid January 1979: $335 vs. $900). Something is obviously out of whack at the moment.

"For my $50,000 investment package, I'd include the following:

$2½ Indian
$2½ or $5 Classic
$3 Liberty
$5 Indian
Panama-Pacific $50 Octagonal

"Why the Pan-Pac Octagonal $50? Admittedly, it's not a hot item right now, and someone who is unsuccessfully trying to sell one at the moment might not agree, but

1) Only 645 were made.
2) The design is unique---it is the only octagonal U.S. coin ever made.
3) It is one of only 1,128 $50 gold pieces ever made---by far the rarest U.S. type coin.
4) It could be worth a couple hundred G's one day."

Comment: I don't know about you, but he certainly convinced me. Mr. Holloway is to be congratulated not only for his well researched answers, but also for going four full typewritten pages without once using the non-word he made famous: "grizzler".

I hoped to find the very best deal of all by doing this article; the one real winner that could make us all rich. I think Grey Holloway came up with that one, too. It's not the No Motto $5, or the No Motto $10, or even the $5 Indian.

Grey Holloway (continued) — "I wish I had a 1985 Grey Sheet."

I would like to thank all the dealers who shared their time and expertise to make this article possible. A special thanks to Bob LeBlanc, who, by pointing out that the Racketeer Nickel is overpriced, undoubtedly saved vast fortunes for investors around the world.
